The Spiritual Aspect of Records and Statistics

BY THE EDITOR

Words are suggestive and significant things, and they are eternal. "Boys flying kites, can haul in their white-winged birds, but you can't do that when flying words." We shall understand this subject only when we understand the words composing it. Let us take them up one at a time.

Our first word is SPIRITUAL. What is spirituality? Is it noise? Is it a sort of mental and soul exhilaration that subordinates reason and order, to confusion and disorder? Is it something that produces trances, hallucinations, and incoherent sounds? The Bible speaks of spiritual mindedness; of spiritual wickedness; of spiritual gifts; of spiritual laws; of spiritual meat; of spiritual drink; of a spiritual rock; of a spiritual body; of a spiritual house; of spiritual blessings; of a spiritual sacrifice; and of other spiritual things, almost ad infinitum, to which we add the Spiritual Aspect of Records and Statistics.

To the business man records and statistics have a commercial aspect, for they indicate to him the value of his investments, and the increase of his possessions—and more, they form the basis on which to calculate future investments and sales. Without records and statistics the business man would be as helpless as a ship in a storm, without rudder, compass, and steering wheel.

To the professional man, records and statistics have a professional aspect. They indicate to the professional man the lines of activity he has followed, and the alternating success and failure of each of them; and also they suggest to him the ones he is best adapted to follow. It is the habit of some doctors to keep a record of the remedies prescribed for certain diseases, when given to certain patients, and a record of the result at various stages of the disease. This forms a basis for intelligent diagnosis, and successful prognosis, in cases of the same kind, in similar patients.

Now I submit that if records and statistics are of such value to men in business and professional life, certainly they have a value to those who serve in the Kingdom of God, and have to do with things eternal. How to introduce the spiritual element into instruction of a formal and external kind was difficult, even for inspiration, but turning to the story of Israel, in the infancy of his life as a nation we find that it was done. Great prizes were offered to Israel, if only he would leave Egypt; the promise of a land flowing with milk and honey, abundant harvests, and springs of water that never failed, and a beauty of landscape that would entrance all eyes, and a triumph over all enemies that would be the wonder of all generations. But keep in mind that such enticement could never be enough; promises cannot end in themselves; when they have been uttered they quiver with an unexpressed meaning. In the beginning of Israel's history as a nation, God wanted to bring that meaning to the attention of the nation, so as to secure confidence in Him, and His plans. To do this He set aside a tribe that was to have no land. That was the subtle revelation of the spiritual aspect of all the land, of all the honey, of all the milk, of all the beauty, of all the triumph, of all the wealth, and of all the superiority that was vouchsafed to Israel in the promise of material things. Yes, we may very safely conclude that records and statistics have a spiritual aspect. The records and statistics are not of themselves spiritual, but are the aspects of spiritual things.

Our next word is ASPECT. This word has several meanings, and from them we have selected the following: "A selected or circumscribed view of a subject, or so regarded for a purpose, as for example, all good qualities to which we give names, as justice, temperance, courage, etc., are not so much parts of goodness, as aspects of it." "Generosity and self-command are striking aspects of benevolence." Applying this definition to records and statistics we may say they are not efficiency; not carefulness; not accuracy; not painstaking; not devoted endeavor, but striking aspects of them. The record of goodness is not goodness, but an aspect of goodness. The statistics given of an organization is not that organization, but is an aspect of it.

Our third word is RECORDS. From the beginning of time records have been written. Before there was parchment, scroll, or stylus, God wrote the story of His glory in the heavens. All we know of God, of creation, of the fall of man, of the coming of Jesus Christ, of the plan of human redemption, of the discovery of America, of the development of nations, of our own families, we know because somebody was thoughtful enough to make records, and God was good enough, and wise enough, and powerful enough to preserve them. There is one chapter in the New Testament that preachers seldom read, but really should commit to memory. It is the first chapter written by Matthew. More than once have we wondered why such names were in "The Book." Such lists are not found in any other book than "The Book." Jesus Christ came through all sorts of people—the king, the warrior, the priest, the farmer, the shepherd, the tradesman, the artisan, the smith, the carpenter, the peasant, the millionaire—indeed the blood of the race was in his veins, and so important was the fact, that God caused it to be written down, and had He not done so, we would never have known of it. The Bible is full of examples and emphasis of the importance of records. "Unto the angel of the church in Ephesus write; unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write; unto the angel of the church in Pergamos write; unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write; unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; unto the angel of the church in Philadelphia write." And he said unto me write, and I am really sorry that some of our church clerks, and conference secretaries, have not been banished to the Isle of Patmos, at least long enough to have heard the Master say unto them write; write your records, and write them correctly, too, and then send them promptly to the proper officer for further use. Had some of our preachers and contributors to The Herald of Gospel Liberty, been banished to the Isle of Patmos long enough to learn to write, we should have had better sermons from our preachers, and richer articles in our good old Herald of Gospel Liberty. In our Sunday-school lesson, only a few Sundays ago, we had the record of four girls in one home, not married. Think ye that such records would be found in the Divine Book were there not spiritual aspects, even to records of unmarried girls in a Jewish home? In the twenty-fourth chapter of Luke, we have the record of one of the great events of the first days of Christ, after His resurrection, where the historian tells us that two disciples were going to Emmaus. Specific record of the time of day, the number of disciples, the name of the place, and the things that occurred on the way, and after they had reached the village, and what occurred afterward. All that painstaking was not for record merely; there is a spiritual aspect to it all.

Luke records a feast that Jesus spread for the multitude, in which is named the number present, the amount of provision with which He began the spread, the order in which the people were seated, how they were served, and how many baskets full were taken up after the crowd had eaten. He then tells us of Jesus crossing the sea, and of the storm, and mentions the number of furlongs the ship was from shore when the disciples caught sight of Him walking on the water. Very minute indeed is this, and many other records of the gospels. When Jesus tells the story of the good shepherd, He tells how many sheep he had in the fold, how many were out on the mountain, and how long the shepherd spent in searching for it. When he tells the story of the prodigal son, he tells how many boys there were in the family. When he tells the story of the rich man and Lazarus, he opens the secrets of the family history, and tells us that there were six sons in the family; at least one had grown rich; one was dead, and was mighty thirsty, and that he still had his old-time habit of ordering some one to bring him a drink. Yes, the story-tellers, and the story-writers of the New Testament believed in keeping records, not merely for the sake of keeping them, but because they had a spiritual aspect. When Jesus scourged the money-changers out of the temple with a whip, it is recorded how the whip was made. In the book of Revelation we are told of a winepress trodden without the city, from which flowed blood as high as the horses' bridles, and as far as a thousand and six hundred furlongs. But so important has God considered records, that he tells us that the city lieth four-square, and the length and the breadth and the height thereof are equal, and in the same Book we are told of the walls being measured, and the kind of material of which they were built. All these things testify to the spiritual aspects of records, and are set down here with the hope that those who read this article, or may chance to hear of it, may never again slight even the most insignificant record.

The Bible is not alone in its testimony to the value of records, but is joined by the evidence of men and the testimony of nature. So far as known, no tribe of savages, no matter how crude in habit, or low in mental power, has ever yet been found that did not in some way keep records; records of travel, of wars, of battles, of victories. And to the Bible, and the testimony of men, comes the facts of nature. In the sandstone can be found a record of the course of the wind, and the drift of the rain for all the centuries that these forces have played upon it. Scratch the green rind of a sapling, or wantonly twist it in the soil, and the mighty oak will tell of the deed in centuries to come. Cut a gash in a man's head, it may heal over, but the record of the deed remains until decomposition shall entirely destroy the body. And we should keep in mind that the record of sin in the soul is as eternal as God himself. Smite a soul, and the scar remains forever; no coffin, nor grave, can conceal it; no revolution, no not even the upturning of the physical universe, can obliterate it; no fire, not even the eternal furnaces of hell can burn it out; and when the Book shall be opened, and all men called to give an account for the deeds done in the body, then, if not before, shall the value, the significance, and the spiritual aspect of records be known and appreciated.

Our last word is STATISTICS. Perhaps this is the really emphatic word of the subject. Just plain, dry statistics. The word becomes very attractive and intensely interesting, when we recall that in our encyclopedias, statistics is classed as a science, and that as early as 1853 a great international statistical congress was held in Brussels and that since that time international statistical congresses have met in nearly all the great cities of the old world. It would be difficult, if not impossible, to give even a creditable enumeration of the multifarious topics which may be the subject of statistical inquiries. One encyclopedia which I consulted classified as follows:

1. Problems regarding the nature of wealth, and its production and growth in a community.
2. Problems relating to inland and foreign trade.
3. Problems relating to taxation and finance.
4. Problems regarding currency, banks, and prices.
5. Problems relating to the wages and hire of labor and the division of employment.
6. Problems relating to the function of the state as regards interference with economic relations of its subjects.

The word has a variety of meanings, among which is this one:

“Numerical facts collectively, pertaining to a body of things, especially when systematically gathered by direct enumeration and collated; especially facts relating to a nation, state, or social organization.”

God has always been interested in statistics. It is intensely interesting, and altogether absorbing, to study the many times that God had His people counted. He ordered that they should be divided into tribes, and appointed seventy elders, the character of whom was not more important, nor significant, than the number of them. He caused Moses, and David, and others in authority, to again and again number the people. He numbered the days, and the Sabbaths, and the new moons, and to clasp the climax, the divine statistician tells us that even the very hairs of our heads are numbered. I know quite well that this statement teaches the love and care of our dear Heavenly Father, but it teaches His interest in statistics as well, for the word “numbered,” is the word that means to number as though one should count them one at a time, until the whole be counted. In our study of the Scripture, we often overlook some very important things, as, for instance, the story of the ten lepers that were healed, only one of whom returned to give thanks. We can easily see the ingratitude of the nine who received health and happiness without being thankful, but do we see the statistician when he counts the number he healed, and asks about the ones who had not returned to give thanks? Jesus had to do with numbers. Numbers enter into the first great revival meeting of the Christian Era. Three thousand in a day, and from that time on through all of Paul’s missionary travels, numbers enter prominently into the history of his work. I shall mention one event in the life of Paul, which I think quite sufficient in itself to enforce the fact of the spiritual aspect of records and statistics. In the nineteenth chapter of the Acts is recorded the story of Paul’s work in Corinth. Paul found in Corinth some men who had accepted the teaching of Apollos, who had taught them as well as he knew. Paul asked them if they had received the Holy Ghost since they believed. When they told him that they had not known there was a Holy Ghost, he laid his hands upon them and they did receive the Holy Ghost. To me the significant thing about the record is that the number of men is given, “All the men were about twelve.” That sounds very like some of the reports I receive; about a hundred and thirty; about every Sunday; about three hundred dollars. But no matter, Luke did not overlook the number. He had respect unto the statistics. And now comes the spiritual aspect of the story; “about twelve men” and yet there was not a whining note; not a complaining word; not a suggestion of it being a small church. Here records and statistics teach us that there is no such thing as a poor church; no such thing as a weak church; no such thing as a down and out church. There may be a lot of poor folks in the church, and they may be weak in mind and in body, but if they constitute a church, the body of Jesus Christ on the earth, they are omnipotent. The spirit-filled church eliminates all adjectives, and other qualifying words, and the number of members should be recorded, if no more than twelve, and the amount they give should be accurately set down in the records of the church, and the whole promptly and accurately reported to the proper conference officer, and by him to any other ones entitled to receive them, for they are spiritual aspects of the church. They are not the church, but aspects of the church.

And now suffer me a few words more, that I may bring to your attention the very great importance of records and statistics in connection with our own specific work. Many have been the times when we have hung our heads in shame at the meager and incomplete reports coming from our churches and conferences. By the printed reports of our work we are known to other bodies of Christians, and by them we are judged as to liberality, devotion, service, and consecration. Indeed we are known and read by all men, and those who read our incomplete reports have an unfair representation of the devotion and sacrifice of the faithful few who sacrifice and serve. As a mere matter of fair dealing, all our clerical force should see to it that the reports are clear, full, and accurate, and that every blank sent out by The American Christian Convention, either from the Secretary's office, or from its departments, is fully and accurately filled out, and promptly returned, and the same is true of the local conference blanks, when mailed to the individual churches. The Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America is seeking to compile each year complete statistics of all the churches; the government collects and publishes statistics, and they, and others, are dependent upon the officers of The American Christian Convention for their information concerning the work of the Christians. The officers of the Convention are entirely dependent upon the Conference Secretaries for their information, and the Conference Secretaries must depend upon the church clerks for their information, and unless the reports are full and complete when mailed by the church clerk, they are likely to remain incomplete and appear so in the printed form, and it is then we blush and hang our heads in shame, not so much because our churches had not done, but because no record had been kept of what they had done. As Secretary of The American Christian Convention, I have many times written Conference Secretaries, asking for fuller reports, only to be informed that the report sent me was as full and as accurate as could be made from the reports made to conference. I have then written to the poorly-reported churches, asking for better reports, and after waiting, and sometimes waiting long, would write the second time, and then wait a while, and again write, and oftentimes get no better word than "I don't know." I have never yet received such a letter that I did not recall a lecture by Dr. Martyn Summerbell, to which I listened in an early period of my ministry. In the lecture he described a very wicked act, with a very disastrous result, the actor giving as an excuse for his deed, "That he did not think." After an impressive pause, the Doctor said, "No, you did not think, but you should have thought." I always repeat the Doctor's words, substituting know for thought. A church clerk may not know, but a church clerk should know. It is for this they are chosen. The office of clerk in a local church, that of secretary of the local Sunday-school, Christian Endeavor Society, and secretary of a conference is one of the important places one is called to fill. These organizations will not suffer nearly so much from poor pastors, incapable presidents, and careless superintendents, as from inefficient or indifferent secretaries. It is a place of honor, responsibility, and service, and he who is not willing to meet the responsibility and render the service, should not accept the honor, but once the honor is accepted, the responsibility is acknowledged, and the service should be rendered up to the full measure of requirement. The responsibility is inherent in the office, and to accept the office is to promise to render the service, and a promise made, and not kept, is a falsehood pure and simple. Churches, Sunday-schools, Christian Endeavor, and Missionary societies, and conferences should select only such persons for the office of Secretary as will carefully, accurately, and completely keep the records and make reports to those justly entitled to receive them. Our work is far too important for us to have inefficient persons in office. The time has past, if indeed it ever was, when persons should be elected to office in the church, or any of its organizations, as a mere compliment. Only such ones as have the work on their hearts, and a preparation for doing it, should be entrusted with the affairs of the Kingdom. Records and statistics have a spiritual aspect, and must be correctly kept, and fully reported. Unless records are accurate, they are of no value; indeed they are false and misleading. As an illustration of this, let me say that the Christian Endeavor societies of a certain conference, in reporting for The Christian Annual for this year, reported, in answer to—Contributed to the Christian Endeavor Department—all that had been raised and spent for all purposes. One society named as much as $250.00, when it had not made an offering to the department at all. We have had, through all the years of our life, excellent, faithful servants of our churches, and conferences, who did their best, and many are doing their best today, and in many cases without any compensation and only meager appreciation. They are to be commended, but the best of the days that were will not suffice for the days that are, nor will the best of the days that are, suffice for the days that are to come. We have better Secretaries now than ever in our history, but there will be better ones in the future, who, when they have finished their work, will give place to still better ones. In this time of increased activities and multiplied methods; this time of denominational co-operation, the duties of all our officers are greatly increased, but for that we should thank God and take courage. In our reports nothing short of accuracy and completeness will meet the demand of our day. We dare not be satisfied short of the fullest report of all the year's work. Unfilled spaces, "Don't know," "No report," "About so much," reveal inefficiency, if not indifference. Paul was content with such things as he had, but he was never satisfied. He always desired the more excellent way. Contentment means to contain, to hold one's self together; it lies within one's self. Satisfaction is derived from external things. With the many meager, incomplete, and inaccurate reports I have held myself together. I have kept a grip on myself, and sweet toward others, but with them I have never been satisfied. I have not complained, but I have sought with an honest heart and longing desire to make all our church and conference officers realize the value of records and accuracy in reports. One only needs to glance at The Christian Annual to be convinced of the importance of complete reports and to find a reason for this appeal. To secure such reports printed in this edition, more than a hundred typewritten letters were mailed, in addition to the printed matter sent out, and the appeals made through The Herald of Gospel Liberty. When we lay our Christian Annual alongside the "Year Book" of some other denominations and see the differences between complete and incomplete reports, we turn to our Church Clerks, our Conference Secretaries, and all others whose duty it is to report, with an appeal for better service.

THE AMERICAN CHRISTIAN CONVENTION

The Christian Church began holding "General Meetings" as early as 1808. The first was held at Portsmouth, N. H., and was known as "The General Conference."

The second meeting was held at Windham, Conn., 1815, and was called the "General Conference or Convention." The name General Conference obtained in 1819, but in 1820 the name was "The General Annual Conference of the United States." This name did not long endure, for in 1821 it was the "General Annual Christian Conference." This name held until 1823, when the name was "The United States General Conference." This name was good enough until 1827, when it was changed to "The General Christian Conference," and ten years later, "The United States Christian Conference, or General Christian Conference" and, in 1831, it was again "The General Christian Conference," which name it also had in 1832. In 1833, "The General Convention" was called to meet, and in 1838, "The Christian Convention" met. In 1850, "The General Christian Convention" met as it did until 1862, when "The United States Quadrennial Christian Convention" held a session. "The United States Quadrennial Christian Convention" met in Marshall, Michigan, in 1866, at which time and place "The American Christian Convention" became the name, which name has continued until now. What the next name will be is not now known, but a new name is in prospect. The following resolution was adopted by the several boards of the church, in joint session, October, 1921:

"Resolved, That these Joint Boards ask the Commission on Organization to consider favorably, and report at the next general Convention, such steps as may be necessary to change our official designation so as to make it the Christian Church."

The Year's Advance

Bits of Encouraging News Gleaned From the Activities of 1921

BY PRESIDENT COFFIN

The year just closed in the annals of the Christian Church includes no unusual and spectacular accomplishments. Yet it has been marked by a quiet, sturdy growth, which has added to its strength at many points, and made rich foundational contributions to future achievements.

It is no small task to struggle from beneath the miscellaneous debris of war, reassemble the material once in hand, reconstruct organizational work, and rehabilitate church activities to normalcy. Even if this could be quickly done, the old standard of activities could not fill the new measure of requirements. Perhaps the most that has been accomplished thus far in the post war period has been in the nature of caisson sinking. It is difficult for the shell-shocked social mind to quickly settle into new programs of hard work. So much is chaotic, uncertain, and tentative in the secular departments of the world's affairs that a similar state cannot be avoided in religious matters. Added to this uncertain state of mind has been another embarrassing fact of financial constriction. Economic pressure is always, for obvious reasons, first felt in benevolences. Therefore in times of financial pinch benevolently sustained enterprises must be halted, and no new large programs dare be inaugurated. So, certain barriers which we have found impeding the progress of a larger work are not peculiar to us denominationally. They are common obstacles which, since they effect the work of the Kingdom as a whole, must also affect us. It is doubtful if we have any problems which are not common to all denominations just now.

The foregoing is neither an admission of, nor an apology for, non-progress, for no such condition exists in our denominational life. It is mentioned here rather to stimulate faith in our beloved church as a potent agency for God in an hour when He needs our services so much. As a result the church should set itself at the task of developing its efficiency to the maximum and consecrating it in willing service.

Nineteen twenty-one has in a number of features surpassed former years. Among these it may be mentioned that:

The Forward Movement has been stimulating the life of the church and giving it a unity in all sections of our brotherhood as no other concerted effort has ever been able to do. By a system of institutes throughout the country the program of the denomination has been brought to the individual members, and plans for effecting it inaugurated in the local congregations. Eight hundred thousand dollars have already been pledged on the special million, of which eighty thousand dollars more have been turned into the channels of the church during the past year. Possibly twice as much has been secured on the other financial objectives of the Movement.

In the work of the Home Mission Department it is gratifying that several centers which have hitherto been aided have become strong and self-supporting. Special assistance by loans for parsonage erection has been given to important points. This department is backing two forms of work which are designed to build humanity more than to build a denomination—the Americanization work in New England and the Logging-camp Evangelism of the Pacific Coast. Surveys are now being made in several populous centers anticipating the inauguration of new Church Extension enterprises.

The year in Foreign Missions has witnessed the completion of plans and funds and the purchasing of lots for the building of the Night School and Mission Home in Tokyo, Japan. Sites have also been purchased for the erection of church edifices at several other points. New fields have also been opened, in part by the Japanese churches voluntarily reaching out into new territory. Statistics of the Japan work show creditable increases for the year. Larger contributions are being constantly made by the native Christians. An enlarged program covering a fifteen year period has also been inaugurated for the Porto Rican work.

There are larger enrollments in our colleges than ever before. Also more men in pursuit of seminary and university education. For the first time a well-organized campaign of visitation to all of our colleges to secure Life Recruits has been effected. There are now two hundred forty-one enrolled Life Recruit Volunteers in the church.

As far as statistics are available, seventy-two percent of our churches held special evangelistic services during the year. Thirty-five percent conducted a pre-Easter campaign. The net increase of membership amounts to nine and ninety-one hundredths percent.

Increased interest in Sunday-school work has been indicated in better organization and equipment. There are now about one hundred thousand pupils enrolled in our Sunday-schools.

We have exceeded all previous years in the volume of tract literature issued. The quality of our regular periodicals has also been made appreciably better.

Summer schools of Religious Education were held at enough locations to be conveniently accessible to our brotherhood. These create study habits, educate in new methods, and contribute to a denominational esprit de corps.

Thirty-one conferences have inaugurated departments of Religious Education. At least one-half of our churches have a definite religious education program more or less elaborate. During the year a number of these have established Daily Vacation Bible Schools or other forms of week-day religious instruction.

A Christian Temple has been dedicated at Winona Lake, Indiana, which is to become a great rallying point for our Mid-West constituency at this popular center of interdenominational gatherings.

Our church territory is rapidly becoming manned with field representatives to conserve and promote those interests of the Kingdom for which our denomination is logically responsible. During the year four general field workers have been added to our staff: one for the Forward Movement, one for the Sunday-school Department, one for the Home Mission Board, and one for Religious Education and Young People's Work in the South.

Church building has begun to revive. Plans are under way at several points for the most complete and expensive edifices ever erected for our body.

Notwithstanding a general financial depression the Convention Secretary's office received a larger number of remittances by sixteen percent than in the preceding year, and an increase in the volume of receipts amounting to forty-six percent. The general receipts for the Home Mission Department were also larger than last year.

We believe that the definite attempt of the year to deepen the devotional life of the church has not been without good results, and we hope that this gain, to us invisible, has been greater than in all else.

May our successes be accepted in humility, and whatever stimulation they bring spur us to overcome failures and effect still greater achievements in 1922.

Sessions of the Convention Boards

THE EXECUTIVE

The Executive Board of The American Christian Convention met in Dayton, Ohio, October 19, 20, 21, 1921. All the members were present, except Rev. D. B. Atkinson, D. D. The Convention President presided.

Rev. Alva M. Kerr, editor of The Herald of Gospel Liberty, was elected to fill the vacancy on the Commission on Christian Unity, occurring by the death of Rev. John MacCalman. He was also elected to fill the vacancy as alternate member on the Executive Committee of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, caused by the death of Rev. M. T. Morrill.

The Commission on Christian Unity was instructed to prepare and mail to all of our pastors, a pamphlet on the subject of Christian Unity, incidentally mentioning the Federal Council, and requesting that such pamphlet be read to their congregations, and also mailing with said pamphlet a letter, mentioning the apportionment allotted to the Christian Church by the Federal Council, of one thousand dollars a year, and requesting that either an offering, or an appropriation, be made to said fund.

Invitations to the Convention to hold its next session were submitted from the Christian Church, Burlington, N. C., and from the Eel River, Indiana State, and the Western Indiana Conferences, to meet at Winona Lake, Indiana. The Executive Board and the Board of Trustees, acting jointly, considered the invitations, and accepted the one from Burlington, N. C., and fixed the time October 17-25, 1922.

The following named commissions were authorized: Christian Endeavor, Education, Evangelism, Foreign Missions, City Churches, Home Missions, Forward Movement, Laymen's Work, Ministerial Relief, Organization, Public Morals, Publicity and Literature, Rural Church, Social Service, Sunday-schools, State of the Church, Christian Unity, Life-work Recruits.

Each department secretary is asked to suggest two persons for each commission, and a central committee, consisting of Revs. F. G. Coffin, J. F. Burnett, O. S. Thomas, W. P. Minton, and W. H. Denison, is then to build the commissions from the persons suggested, and the central committee is to prepare a leaflet explaining the purpose, the importance, and the scope of the commissions.

A committee appointed to consider the printing of the various reports recommended that they be reduced to five hundred words, and published in The Herald of Gospel Liberty, and afterward put into pamphlet form for free distribution.

Voted that the departmental reports, the reports of the commissions, and the Convention program, be put into packages and given to members of the Convention, by the Committee on Registration, at the time members shall register.

The Convention President and Secretary were made ex-officio members of the Program Committee, consisting of Revs. W. P. Minton, O. S. Thomas, and A. B. Kendall, with Rev. W. W. Staley as consulting member, each department to provide its own program, subject to change, approval, and place by the Program Committee.

W. A. Harper, Netum Rathbun, J. B. Gove, E. M. Carter, and W. S. Alexander were made a Committee on Transportation.

The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we endorse the plans of co-operation, as submitted by the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and pledge our co-operation to the extent of our ability.

JOINT BOARDS

The following named boards of the Christian Church met in joint session in Dayton, Ohio, October 18-20, 1921: Executive, Home Mission, Foreign Mission, Education, Sunday-school, Christian Endeavor, and the Board of Trustees of The Christian Publishing Association.

Rev. F. G. Coffin, President of The American Christian Convention, presided.

The several boards of the church, including the Forward Movement, submitted reports prior to the separate meetings, and also reported the work done in the separate meetings, and the plans laid for the future.

The President's report was referred to the Committee on Denominational Objective and Appeal.

The following recommendations and resolutions were adopted:

The Board of Christian Endeavor fully approves and recommends the organization of a Board of Religious Education, said Board to be under the direction and supervision of a Secretary of Religious Education, provided the Christian Endeavor activities coming under such Board of Religious Education be a definite department of that board.

It was further voted that the above recommendation be considered by the Committee on Organization.

Voted that these Joint Boards ask the Commission on Organization to consider favorably, and report at the next general Convention, such steps as may be necessary to change our official designation so as to make it the Christian Church.

Resolved, That it be the sense of this body that some definite steps should be taken now to safeguard our financial income two years hence, when a great number of our Forward Movement pledges will have been paid up. That the President of this body be requested to appoint a committee, whose business it shall be to study the whole question, and make certain forward-looking recommendations that may occur wise to said committee. The committee is to report to the next Convention.

Resolved, That the Commission on Organization be asked to consider the advisability of making The Christian Publishing Association a department of The American Christian Convention, consulting legal authority in order to ascertain the steps necessary to be taken in effecting this action.

Resolved, That the combined boards of the Christian Church, assembled in annual session, Dayton, Ohio, October 20, 1921, most heartily endorse the Conference for the Limitation of Armament, which has been called to meet at Washington, D. C., November 11, by President Harding, and that we assure the President of our earnest desire to co-operate with him in any way we can in bringing about a real limitation in armament, believing as we do that limitation of armament leads to peace, and armament results eventually in war.

Moved and seconded that the recommendation of the Forward Movement, with reference to a course of training for children, be referred to the Secretary of Religious Education.

BOARD OF CHURCH POLITY

The Board of Church Polity met in Dayton, Ohio—First Christian Church—October 18, 1921, with all the members present, except Hon. E. L. Goodwin, of the Board of Trustees of The Christian Publishing Association.

Voted that Revs. F. G. Coffin, W. W. Staley, and O. S. Thomas be made a Committee on Denominational Objective and Appeal.

The editor of The Herald of Gospel Liberty, the editor of the Sunday-school Literature, and the editor of The Christian Annual, submitted written reports.

Voted to continue The Christian Annual in its present form, and to contain the same amount and character of information.

The board expressed its hearty approval of the editorial management of The Herald of Gospel Liberty, and its desire for more of the human interest type of matter for its pages.

In the matter of "Heads" for the departments' space in The Herald of Gospel Liberty, the editor of the paper and the secretaries of the departments were to decide.

A Difficult Year

The year 1920-1921 has been a very difficult year for our colleges, as for all church institutions. Most of our schools and colleges have been facing deficits that have been disconcerting. In most cases fees have been increased, but this has in no instance met the increased cost of operation. Two ways are open to meet the condition faced: The one is through increased offerings on the part of the church, annually; the other is through greatly increased endowment. Both methods will have to be utilized to meet the present accentuated demand. A new educational conscience must be developed among our people that they may realize the value of education in the coming of the Kingdom and have a clearer conception of the nature of stewardship, that the work may be supported as present conditions and needs demand.

Attendance

Nearly all of our schools and colleges report increased enrollment during the last year.

Scholarship Aid

Of those receiving aid this year through scholarship grants, five were in attendance at a Seminary, one at a state university, eight at one of our own colleges, and one was in preparation for entering college in one of our preparatory departments. Aid to the amount of $2,050.00 was given.

Some of our churches are beginning to accede to the urge of the Board that they establish scholarship funds in the church to aid some of their own young men or women who may be entering the ministry or some one else who is preparing for the work. This presents great possibilities and it is hoped many of our churches will get a vision of the possibility of such action.

Meetings of the Board

Two meetings of the Board have been held this year and one meeting of the Executive Committee at a convenient center. At the meeting of the Board in May, in Dayton, Ohio, our college presidents were invited to be present and all responded except one. The whole matter of our educational interests was considered at this gathering and the assembly was fruitful, as we believe.

College Assistance

The Educational Board has had in contemplation the establishing of a fund which would represent a permanent reserve fund for the more intensive conduct of the work of the department. The critical condition of our colleges as represented at the May meeting, and the unanimous opinion expressed at that time by those present that aid should be given to the colleges now, induced the Board to make grants for two years to the three schools most in need. Twenty-two thousand dollars was promised these institutions, covering a period of two years. Eleven thousand of that amount has been paid.

Secretarial Visitation

During the year the Secretary has visited three of our schools. Time alone prevented him visiting all of the schools and colleges under our direction.

Recruiting for Christian Service

The Board has lent its good offices during the year to recruiting young men and women for Christian service, acting in co-operation with the Home Mission Department and the Forward Movement. There are probably more young men and women in attendance at our schools and colleges now fitting themselves for some definite form of Christian activity than ever before in the history of our church, certainly the number of candidates is larger if we take into account those in the churches who have decided to devote their lives to this end.

Educational Week

All our churches were urged to observe Educational Week, calling attention to our institutions and uniting in prayer for our educational work and the program of the nation.

Council of Church Boards of Education

The Board is a member of the Council of Church Boards of Education and co-operates with it as far as possible.

Total receipts from October 1, 1920, to September 30, 1921, were $62,636.29 including Forward Movement, special and regular funds. Total expenditures, $58,105.83. The total debt of the department is $3,626.13, which is a substantial decrease from that of a year ago. We have on hand in special accounts cash amounting to $10,104.58.

During the past year we bought lots in Tokyo for a mission home, and for the night school-kindergarten plant; built and paid for a new kindergarten building at Oji, costing $2,100.00 and accommodating fifty pupils with living quarters for two teachers; paid the balance of $1,150.00 on the Tsukidate Church and parsonage; bought, on borrowed money, a lot for a chapel at Narugo, at a cost of $637.00 and also a combined parsonage and preaching place at Otawara at a cost of $1,300.00; opened a new mission point in Meguro, another Tokyo suburb; bought and paid for a parsonage at Salinas, P. R., at a cost of $1,200.00; started industrial and kindergarten work in Porto Rico; made thorough surveys of both our Japan and Porto Rican fields; made a normal increase in all our regular work; returned the Frys and Barretts to their fields following their furloughs and brought Mr. Garman home for his furlough. To our great regret the Martins have been forced to give up permanently their work in Porto Rico, where they had already begun effective service.

The activities of the Secretary for the year embraced three months completing the trip to Japan and most of this September in the trip to Porto Rico, his attendance at the Foreign Missions Conference, the Seaside Chautauqua, Western Christian Convention, Pastors' School at Defiance, fourteen conferences, forty-five local churches and societies, speaking some sixty times in Japan and more than 120 times in this country from January first to September fifteenth. He has also published three tracts totalling 40,000 copies which were widely circulated, kept up the work of the office and edited The Christian Missionary.

During the coming year we hope to begin actual work of constructing the night school-kindergarten plant and the mission home in Tokyo at a total cost of about $53,000, including the cost of the two lots recently purchased, all but about $5,000.00 of which is provided for; pay for the lot and build the chapel at Narugo, for which about $1,600.00 is needed; build the chapel at Santa Isabel, P. R., at a cost of $10,000, half of which is not yet provided for; launch a far-reaching and constructive program in Porto Rico looking to eventual self-support of the native church, provide much needed teaching equipment for the native pastors in Porto Rico in the form of two horse and buggy outfits, costing about $200.00 each; secure as soon as possible a trained medical missionary for our Porto Rican field; increase normally the regular work. The whole church behind the whole task will make these things possible.

REPORT OF THE PUBLISHER OF THE CHRISTIAN MISSIONARY, OCTOBER 18, 1921

The Christian Missionary has enjoyed a good year both in increased and paid-up subscriptions. Yet the deficit this year is considerably higher than last, due to the fact that we have had to buy paper stock separately from our printing contract with which it was included last year. Following is a comparison of the receipts and expenditures for the past two years:

	1920	1921
Printing	$1,657.81	$1,380.79
Postage	115.19	137.26
Engravings	120.96	228.70
Paper Stock		794.85
Publisher's Expense and Misc.	100.36	143.05
Total Expense	$1,994.32	$2,684.65
Receipts	1,296.14	1,736.64
Deficit	$ 698.18	$ 948.01

Two printing bills from The Christian Publishing Association amounting to $271.88 were not received until after the books were closed. Therefore, the deficit is in reality $1,216.89. The increased deficit over last year is more than accounted for in the $794.85 paid for paper stock this year. Considering the much larger subscription list, the cost of postage and other miscellaneous publishing expense was about the same as last year. Engravings cost more this year than last, but we believe this to be a wise expenditure as shown by the larger paid-up subscription list. Comparison of receipts shows $440.50 more received this year than last, which means there were 881 more paid-up subscriptions this year. The October, 1920, issue contained 3600 copies and the September, 1921, issue 4000. The average number printed each month in 1920 was 3300 and in 1921, 3875.

Following is a comparison of the mailing list for the two years:

	Sept. 1920	Sept. 1921
Total on mailing list	3538	3942
Delinquent to October 1	1256	1094
Number free copies sent	75	79
Paid-up subscriptions	2207	2769

Aside from a new cover page we contemplate no radical changes in the make-up of the magazine. We believe the deficit is justified from the standpoint of propaganda, in the increasing paid-up subscription list. We welcome missionary news from local churches and societies and urge our talented missionary writers to furnish us with more missionary articles. We are profoundly grateful to those whose faithful and efficient help has made it possible to publish the magazine on time throughout the year. The increased circulation is due largely to an earnest group of pastors, conference mission secretaries, literature superintendents, and Forward Movement workers. We firmly believe that if others will join in this work we can very greatly increase the subscription list during the coming year.

The total receipts for the last year were, including Forward Movement and specials, $42,991.85, and to this may be added the cash on hand at the close of last year, which was $33,806.99, making a total of $76,798.84. The total disbursements for the year for all Home Mission work was $54,634.07.

At the beginning of this year we have a credit balance of $26,389.33 in the general fund alone. The total appropriations made for the year are less than $50,000.00 so that the plans for the year are very conservative. They include: Co-operation with the Home Missions Council, The Ohio Federation of Churches; Conducting Pastors' Schools, aiding more than twenty churches and partially supporting at least twelve conference field men, besides supporting fully the General Field Secretary; working among the logging men of Western Washington and conducting a Christian Americanization work in Haverhill, Mass. We are also planning to aid the building of parsonages and new church buildings with easy loans, and in a few cases where the need is strategic with appropriations. A great deal of aid has been given to Franklinton Christian College, our school for Negroes.

Home Missions has also been made quite largely responsible for securing better financial systems in the churches.

Believing that a portion of the money from the Forward Movement Funds could be expended to great advantage by publishing, for free distribution, a series of booklets, giving in a concise way a statement of the fundamental principles of the Christians, together with brief sketches of some of our church fathers, upon my request Rev. J. F. Burnett prepared, and without cost to the department, such a series of booklets, and the department caused them to be published, for free and general distribution—

Origin and Principles of the Christians	8,000
Sketch of Rev. James O'Kelly	5,000
Sketch of Rev. Abner Jones	5,000
Sketch of Rev. Barton W. Stone	5,000
Sketch of Rev. Elias Smith and Horace Mann	5,000
Sketch of the Early Women of the Church	5,000

These booklets contain a fund of very valuable information, which will be of great educational and inspirational value to our church. Already some of the editions are exhausted, and second editions have been ordered. It is the belief of your Secretary that the influence of these booklets will be far reaching, and of special worth to students, teachers, and active workers in the church, as they create a desire to know more about the church to which they belong.

One year ago we presented the young people of our church with a clear-cut, definite program for service and training. The work of the Board during this year has been largely the matter of stressing that program and seeking to get our Endeavor societies and churches to adopt that program as theirs for their work for the young people.

In seeking to do this and in the matter of a survey to find our real condition in the field of Endeavor, the Secretary sent out 1245 letters during the year. He has also prepared the Annual Call and issued a twelve-page pamphlet setting forth a plan which we have called "The Christian Endeavor Forward Movement Crusade." In this pamphlet we have tried to present our young people with a program broad enough to cover the whole field of religious activity for young people, simple enough to be carried out by the weakest society, definite enough to bring real results, if adopted and followed.

Twelve addresses on Christian Endeavor work have been delivered by the members of the Board during the year. The Board and the church have been honored by the Secretary being asked to deliver an address before a section of the World's Christian Endeavor Convention held in New York City. At this Convention a fine rally was held with sixty delegates from thirteen States and provinces present.

The Secretary has prepared and had printed a set of examination questions for Endeavorers seeking the degree of Christian Endeavor Expert.

During the year there came the suggestion from Doctor C. E. Clark that a history of Christian Endeavor in our denomination would be a fine thing for us to prepare. The Secretary has been striving to gather data for such a work.

The entire membership of the Board was present at the World's Convention and the Secretary also attended a meeting of the Committee of Denominational Representatives of Young People's Work held in the city of Cleveland, Ohio.

A meeting of the Board was held at this Convention.

FUTURE PLANS

In the coming year we will continue our efforts to make a complete satisfactory survey of the denomination and secure further data for our Christian Endeavor history, and hope that during the year this history may be brought out.

Wall Charts of the Christian Endeavor Standards of the Christian Church are to be prepared and placed in every society. Certificates to be given societies attaining the rank of "Excellent" or "Superior" will be printed.

We are planning to co-operate to the fullest extent in the summer schools of Christian Education of our church.

Plans for securing a banner attendance at the World's Christian Endeavor Convention in Des Moines in 1923 are being thought out and prepared for launching.

Convention and Conference Secretaries of Christian Endeavor will be asked to suggest names of key-men or women in their Conference or Convention to develop the Alumni Association within their territory.

The Forward Movement Crusade will be pressed with renewed vigor. In order that it may be more effective the field has been divided among the different members of the Board as follows:

- R. G. English, the New England Convention and Canada.
- A. B. Kendall, the Metropolitan Convention.
- A. E. Kemp, the Central Convention.
- F. E. Rockwell, the Western Convention.
- J. F. Morgan, the Southern Convention.

The work has also been divided and to each member of the Board a particular time assigned for stressing his particular line of work as follows:

- R. G. English, Devotional, November to January.
- A. B. Kendall, Missions, January to the 15th of March.
- J. F. Morgan, Evangelism, March 15 to May 15.
- F. E. Rockwell, Religious Education, May 15 to September.
- A. E. Kemp, Benevolence, September to November.

Department of Sunday-schools

SUNDAY-SCHOOL BOARD

- Mr. Hermon Eldredge, Y. M. C. A. Bldg., Erie, Pa.—Chairman.
 - Mr. F. R. Beach, Irvington, N. J.—Vice-Chairman.
 - Mrs. F. E. Bullock, C. P. A. Bldg., Dayton, Ohio—Secretary.
 - Rev. H. G. Rowe, Warren, Ind.—Adult Division.
 - Rev. H. H. Short, Bluffton, Ind.—Teacher Training.
 - Rev. S. Q. Helfenstein, C. P. A., Dayton, Ohio—Sunday-school Literature.

Two main objectives comprise in a large way the objectives of the Sunday-school Board.

First: EFFICIENCY. The International Sunday-school Standard is the basis of this objective. We request every Sunday-school Superintendent and Pastor to become acquainted with this standard and make it the objective of the local school. The plan is practical and definite and will be furnished free to any officer of the Christian Church Sunday-schools who will address the Chairman or Secretary of the Board. Write.

Second: INCREASE. The Pennsylvania plan of systematic increase all along the line and in all departments of the Sunday-school is adopted by the Board and this plan will be sent, without cost, to anyone in our church who will write the chairman or secretary of the Board. (See addresses above.)

FIELD WORK—

The Board has placed Mrs. F. E. Bullock in the field and she is available for work in conferences, tours of Sunday-schools, and general Sunday-school work in any section of the country where our work needs her. We will be glad to correspond and arrange with any of our Sunday-school workers who desire the services of Mrs. Bullock. We are anxious to help the weaker schools and conferences as much as to go into the larger and more prosperous ones. We can arrange it so that the smallest churches and Sunday-schools and the weakest conferences may have her service. Write that we may know your needs and desires.

Report of the President of The American Christian Convention for the Year 1920-1921

The president's activities for the past year have differed only in details from those enumerated in his last annual report. The demands for his services in various ways have been enlarging as has his own vision of the possibilities of the work.

His efforts for the past year have been projected along three lines of purpose: 1. Heartening, strengthening, and solidifying our denominational forces. 2. Assisting in the promotion of the various features of the Forward Movement. 3. Improving relations of comity with other denominations and securing a fuller recognition of the Christian Church and its position in interdenominational movements.

In the promotion of these things I am feeling that some slight contribution has been made. Of its value I assume no estimate. I only know that conferences, particularly the weaker and more remote ones, as well as other gatherings, have seemed to appreciate the presence of the Convention president at their sessions. As one result I am of the opinion that they have sensed a closer unity with the general body and have responded with an increased loyalty to the whole denominational program.

A statistical enumeration of one aspect of my official activities since our last meeting includes 204 principal addresses besides incidental talks. These by subjects include the following: sermons and inspirational addresses, 71; general denominational interests, 38; Forward Movement, 46; ordinations, dedications, commencements, and other special occasions, 27; to other denominational and interdenominational gatherings, 24. This work has required travel amounting to 21,322 miles and an absence from the office of 160 days during the year. I have attended fourteen conferences, conventions, and general meetings of our own people; assisted in the preliminary organization of the Central Christian Convention, attended a meeting of the Field Secretaries of the denomination and have spoken in all of our colleges except one.

It will be interesting to the brethren to know that there have been no interdenominational meetings of a general character during the year, where the desire for our presence was made known, at which we have not been represented. I have also attended one meeting of the moderators and presidents of the churches and arranged for a proxy at a second. The greetings of our church are being increasingly borne to the gatherings of other denominations with the result that we are becoming better known, and, what is more to be coveted, better understood. Our men are now being sought for the programs and periodicals of other bodies in a way most helpful to our general usefulness.

The financial outlay necessitated by this work has been as follows: Travel and road expense, $528.09; office assistance, $247.00; telegrams, $30.25; postage, $22.70; special deliveries, $7.30; miscellaneous office expense, $22.10; salary, $1,300.96. Total $2,158.40.

For the most part our work has a hopeful outlook. We are becoming larger visioned, better manned, more cohesive, systematic, and uniform. Our auxiliary departments, particularly the missionary enterprise of our women, offer many encouragements. The scattered distribution of our work geographically makes difficult some plans which might be inaugurated for increased effectiveness.

There is an anomalous condition prevailing in church life just now. It is difficult to define. Perhaps it has not yet come to sufficient form to make definition possible, but this does not lessen its gravity nor reduce the problem which it thrusts upon the churches. There is a state of weakness in the life of all denominations which ought not exist. There is danger that it may be interpreted as peculiarly denominational instead of the reflex of a general religious condition which reaches over into the denominational life in many expressions. This condition may easily become a cause of discouragement, or call forth rash proposals of abortive methods if we yield to a patienceless desperation.

The post-war situation is as disappointing as it is evasive. It is doubtful if its cause can be diagnosed except in such generalities as may be assigned to any religious decadence. Here and there it has left unmistakable marks of partial impotency on the church. It does not involve a lack of financial resources so much as a missing spiritual stability. There is evident uncertainty as to a program to meet this peculiar, complex situation. Unfortunately, this occurs just at a time when certitude is a primary need. The feeling is general that a new order, a Christian order, is due and should dominate in personal conduct, industry, business, education, statecraft, and all social relations. This is accompanied by a feeling that the church is not getting the results it should, nor functioning adequately in a crisis hour.

All of this has generated a spirit of discontent which finds expression in changed and changing plans, spasmodic efforts, migrating preachers, intra-denominational cleavages, occasional backward movements, etc. Our church, in common with other denominations, is experiencing some phases of this unfortunate reaction. With some it is a reason for slight discouragement, and, notwithstanding the many forward strides which we are making, there is a minority among us who are not speaking optimistically of our situation.

To me it seems that some movement effecting a fusing of forces is certain to be a result of our present religious tentativeness. For this I believe the Christian Church should be alert and co-operative, but that, pending the arrival of such a time, we should be at our present tasks with a surpassing energy.

I have seemingly lugged this situation into my annual report, but it is prefatory to saying that, as I see it, this spirit is one of the most serious drawbacks to our denominational work which I have discovered during the year. Another is our feeling of personal and sectional independence of each other. Because of this we have not been able to get the solid impact behind our plans which their success requires.

I have discovered no reason to change the suggestions with which I closed my report a year ago. In addition to these I am of the opinion that an itinerary of rallies, strategically located, which might include institutes on denominational organization, to establish a sense of permanency in the pastoral relationship, thereby increasing the duration of pastorates and the longevity of plans; instruct in the interrelation of local churches and the function of the laymen in the church, would be opportune.

Denominational Objectives and Appeal 1921—1922

Formulated by the Board of Polity through its committee: President F. G. Coffin, D. D.; Rev. Omer S. Thomas, D. D., Secretary of Home Missions; and Rev. W. W. Staley, D. D.

In the review of the year's work there is found much to encourage and inspire. Whatever is not of this character is remediable and calls for but a wise and aggressive program. The results from the Forward Movement have enlarged our denominational possibilities by increased funds. There has also been a noticeable strengthening of denominational consciousness and of co-operative effort within our body. The persisting post-war conditions extend and increase our obligations in common with all other American Christians. The present situation may not be to our liking in many respects, but its responsibilities cannot be honorably evaded. To the loyal, difficult problems are only a challenge to supreme effort.

Let us be heartened by the new life in many departments of our church work—the enlarging and improved equipment, the increasing denominational cohesion and stability, better organization, larger contribution of funds and service to Kingdom extension, rising standards in the various departments of our work, an increased number of Life Recruits, deepening spiritual life; and, above all, that sure Presence of God, of which we have had many evidences during the year to stimulate us to fresh gratitude.

There are now before us great needs to which we must give a willing and competent response. These, in the judgment of the Board of Polity, are represented in part in the following objectives which should be kept constantly before our church for the guidance of the work of the year before us:

1. The necessity for a united and synchronized program, behind which may be gotten the strength of the entire brotherhood. We are in need of the stimulation of unanimity. We therefore call upon all of our district conventions, local conferences, churches, and members to study how they may co-operate fully in the plans of The American Christian Convention and its departments. Divergence weakens, unanimity strengthens.

This is an opportune time to stress the plans of the Executive Board of The American Christian Convention, adopted at its second session of the quadrennium. These resolutions not only suggest periods of time, and name competent workers, but lay special responsibility upon the departments well fitted to make effective the plans.

Resolved that: For more effectual working the church year be divided into five periods. January and February to be known as a period of Evangelism, March and April as a Foreign Mission period, May and June as a Home Mission period, July, August, September, and October as a period of Religious Education, and November and December as a period of Christian Stewardship and Spiritual Intensification;

That the educational effort during these periods be placed respectively in the hands of the Foreign Mission Board, the Home Mission Board, the Educational Board, and the Sunday-school Board, acting jointly, the Sunday-school Board and two committees to be appointed—one on Evangelism and the other on the Spiritual Life of the church;

That during these periods all possible effort be made through the denominational press and the local church, to develop the life and work of the church along the particular line of work indicated, especially, where possible, by training the church for leadership in the life of the nation and the world.

In keeping with the above resolution, the President appointed the following named committees:

Spiritual Life of the Church—

Rev. George C. Enders, Defiance, Ohio,
Rev. Henry W. McCrone, St. Johnsville, N. Y.,
Rev. J. W. Harrell, Burlington, N. C.

Evangelism—

Rev. Roy C. Helfenstein, Dover, Del.,
Rev. Willoe J. Hall, Dayton, Ohio,
Rev. Geo. D. Eastes, Raleigh, N. C.

2. Our laymen should sense a deep obligation for the particular phases of the work for which they are right-fully responsible. The ministry should be given adequate support and the lay activities of the church maintained at a maximum of efficiency. Especially should any tendency to neglect the religious welfare of the community and the financial support of the work because of economic conditions be discouraged.

3. The completion of the full program of the Forward Movement. If business conditions have temporarily retarded the financial canvass, it must be completed at the earliest possible moment. Meanwhile every church and every member should be working at all of the features of the Forward Movement program.

4. Our mission enterprises at home and abroad are apparently at an opportune period. Their needs must be met with a larger supply of money, equipment, and workers than ever before. As a result of our missionary awakening, we have set for ourselves missionary tasks from which we cannot honorably recede. The demands will increase, not diminish. "No man, having put his hand to the plow, and looking back, is fit for the Kingdom of God."

5. Our colleges are confronted with the largest opportunity of their history. Their enrollments are increased beyond all precedents. Their equipment is more complete than ever. They are manned with efficient executives and instructors and are, without doubt, making their largest contribution to our church life, yet they are facing financial problems which threaten the very existence of some of them and the efficiency of all. The present cramped economic condition makes it imperative that our colleges should be aided with larger gifts. The alternative of this omission at this particular time is too grave to contemplate. It should also be kept constantly before our churches in every possible way that the colleges will be able to render their largest service to them only when the sons and daughters of our members secure their education in them. The children of our church homes should be the students of our church schools.

6. The supply of candidates for our pulpits, and mission fields, and our quota of interdenominational workers, must be kept constantly before our young people. Churches, young people's organizations, both junior and senior, should incorporate the supply of workers for the field as a definite objective of such organizations.

7. The Religious Education program of the church must include more and better literature, the planning and promotion of Vacation Bible Schools, Summer Schools of Religion, Week Day Religious Education, the development of child life into service for the Kingdom through the church, more sane and sensible evangelism for children of the teen age, larger demands and training for Life Recruits, and the complete alignment of the Christian Endeavor strength on the Foursquare and Forward Movement Loyalty campaigns.

8. Extending the circulation of our church literature. Upon this point there has been such an absence of a feeling of responsibility that both our publications and the work of Christ which they promote have suffered in consequence. We call upon our ministers and members everywhere to promote the circulation of our church literature with the same zeal as they would spread the preaching of the gospel. No other effort will give more unity to the church or more strength to its plans.

9. Studious attempts should be continually made to knit the organizations of our church more closely together. Efforts in this direction may be wisely directed toward the general official departments of The American Christian Convention, the geographical sections of our territory, and the various organic agencies within the local church. Cumbersome and uncorrelated organization means denominational inefficiency. We are of the opinion that an efficient force of Field Secretaries will aid in securing this as well as all other objectives of the church.

10. The unmistakable demands of the hour are for a closer unity of the various denominations. Simple business conservation and efficiency, the extent and urgency of the community and world tasks, and the exemplification of the spirit which ought to be found in the church of Christ, all insistently urge a closer organization of the followers of Christ. Our people everywhere should shun a censorious attitude, and should cultivate the spirit of Christian generosity. Wherever it is possible to aid in co-operative movements which are planned with Christian consideration for all, we urge the fullest co-operation of our people.

Toward the realization of these objectives, let us devote our efforts with an energy surpassing all previous attempts, and a consecration which will make us usable in the fulfillment of the whole great plan of the Head of the Church.

HISTORICAL BY REV. A. H. MORRILL

The New England Christian Convention was organized at Lynn, Mass., November 5, 1845. Forty-four were recorded as members of the organization, which was to meet annually. At the same time and place the Missionary Society of our people in New England was organized. Later, an Educational Society was organized. These two societies meet annually in connection with the Convention. Both societies are incorporated under special act of the Massachusetts legislature.

Mark Fernald says of this Lynn meeting that "much business of importance was done, and in harmony."

The territory of the New England Convention comprises the States of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and the eastern part of Connecticut. At present we have no church in eastern Connecticut (though we formerly had), and the Danbury church being a member of the New York Eastern Conference is part of the Metropolitan Convention.

Ordinarily the Convention meets in June, annually, but a few times, including the past two years, it has met in July or August. Changes several times have been made as to the membership of the Convention, sometimes it being a delegated body, delegates being appointed by the conferences, and sometimes delegates from churches direct, which is just now the representation plan. It exercises limited advisory powers only.

Because our churches are scattered over a wide area, from Westerly, R. I., to Aroostook County, Maine, some 500 miles, the usual attendance at its sessions is much smaller than some fifty years ago. The basis of membership in the two societies being financial, they virtually do only executive business.

On account of the plan to celebrate the Jubilee of the Christian Camp Meeting Association, at Craigville, Mass., in 1922, commemorating the fifty years of our summer meetings at that place, it has been decided by the Executive Board of the Convention not to hold the regular session of that body that year.

(Reported by President Johnson)

Officers—Rev. W. W. Staley, Suffolk, Va.—President.
 Rev. J. O. Atkinson, Elon College, N. C.—Vice-President.
 Rev. I. W. Johnson, Suffolk, Va.—Secretary.
 Rev. J. F. Morgan, Berkley, Norfolk, Va.—Assistant Secretary.
 Rev. W. C. Wicker, Elon College, N. C.—Treasurer.

Territory—The Southern Christian Convention is composed of the following conferences: Virginia Valley Central Conference, A. W. Andes, Harrisonburg, Va., Secretary; Georgia and Alabama Conference, J. F. Hill, Jr., Phoenix, Ala., Secretary; Alabama Conference, E. M. Carter, Wadley, Ala., Secretary; Eastern Virginia Conference, Rev. I. W. Johnson, Suffolk, Va., Secretary; North Carolina Christian Conference, J. A. Dickey, Elon College, N. C., Secretary.

In accordance with the Convention recommendations, all the conferences have organized local Conference Missionary Associations. These associations have been officered in the manner of the Convention Association. By the plans thus inaugurated the funds for home missions will be greatly increased. As regards foreign missions, there is a steady growth of interest. A special call was made upon the conferences for missions at the late session of the Convention.

The Convention met in Raleigh, N. C., in May, 1920.

The most recent forward step of the Convention is the election of Dr. J. O. Atkinson Field Secretary of Missions in the Convention. One hundred twenty-five thousand dollars have already been subscribed and more than $60,000.00 paid in for this fund, to be divided equally for Home and Foreign Missions.

The Convention successfully developed and completed the Men and Millions Forward Movement Campaign during the year 1920, which will mean much for the progress of our cause in the Southern Christian Convention during the next five years.

This Convention also supports the Christian Orphanage, located at Elon College, N. C., The Christian Sun, and Elon College, all owned by the Convention.

The next session of the Convention will meet at Suffolk, Va., Tuesday, 10 a. m., May 2, 1922, and will be in session for four days.

Territory—Its present territory includes the States of Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, and Nebraska, but looks forward toward additions to this, as the drawing power of Palmer College, located at Albany, Mo., shall be felt in a widening radius, and the Christian shall become a more important factor in the growth of the Kingdom in the Mississippi Valley. The college, formerly a ward of Iowa State Conference outgrowing the territory of said conference and extending its vision far beyond its control, made necessary a commensurate guardianship and so the Western Christian Convention planned for in 1914, was given more perfectly organized form in 1915. Besides looking after the college interests, it looks after the taking over of some or all the interests of the State conferences within its territorial borders.

The Western Christian Convention recommended that the four Iowa Christian Conferences be so reconstructed and organized as to make but two. That the Union and Central Conferences unite, making the Eastern Iowa Christian Conference, and that the Des Moines and Southwestern Conference unite, making the Western Iowa Christian Conference. In August, 1921, in keeping with the recommendation, the Des Moines and Southwestern Conferences united, forming what is now the Western Iowa Christian Conference. The Union and Central Conferences still maintain their original identity, name, territory, and organization.

HISTORICAL BY D. M. HELFENSTEIN, PRESIDENT

The Western Christian Convention is indirectly, if not directly connected with the 1912 session of the Iowa State Christian Conference, held at Legrand, Iowa, May 30, 31.

For some time there had been a growing conviction that the territory of Palmer College, located at Legrand, Iowa, was too much circumscribed by reason of other well-equipped and better endowed colleges near-by, hence, it was thought best to change the location of the college to some point where the Christian brotherhood of the West could concentrate their forces, and build one college that would meet the needs of our western constituency. The town of Albany, Mo., the county seat of Gentry County, having had at one time two rival colleges, one built by the Disciple brethren and the other by the Southern Methodist brethren, was at this time without any college privileges, as both of the colleges had failed. The Disciple college building was converted into a High School building for the town, while the building and campus of the Southern Methodist, valued at $75,000.00, fell into the hands of the Commercial Club of Albany.

Rev. E. A. Watkins, D. D., who was closing his first year as President of Palmer College, and Rev. J. W. Piper, the President of the Board of Trustees of the College, had learned of the situation at Albany and they with one or more of the members of the Board of Trustees visited Albany, and looked over the situation, and conferred with the Commercial Club, who offered to turn the entire plant over to the Board of Trustees, with a clear title with the understanding that the school be maintained for ten consecutive years.

The proposition was brought before the Iowa State Christian Conference at its session in 1912. As the charter of the College was in the name of said Conference, and as all legal steps had been taken the Conference could and did by vote authorize by approval of the locating of the College at Albany, Mo. Due to the untiring and undaunted energies of Dr. Watkins and members of the Board of Trustees, with the Commercial Club of Albany co-operating, Palmer College opened in Albany in the fall of 1912. The Iowa State Christian Conference held its session of 1913 at Albany in connection with College Commencement as usual. At the 1914 session of Conference held at Albany, the four States, Iowa, Kansas, Missouri, and Nebraska, were given representation on the Board of Trustees for the College, and plans were made looking toward the transfer of College interests to a more representative body to be known as the Western Christian Convention.

At a joint meeting of the two bodies held May 31 to June 3, 1915, delegates having been sent to act in the capacity of a Convention, from the States named, the Western Christian Convention was organized and held its first session in said year, at Albany, Mo., and the Convention assumed the responsibility of the management of the College through its Board of Trustees, all legal phases of the transfer having been adjusted.

HISTORICAL

Pursuant to the recommendation of The American Christian Convention, a District Convention was organized at the Church of the Evangel, Brooklyn, New York, November 11, 12, 1919. The territory covered by this Convention is Ontario (Canada), New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, and West Virginia, these several territories including the following named Christian conferences: Ontario, New York Central, New York Eastern, New York Western, Tioga River, New Jersey, Rays Hill and Southern Pennsylvania, Western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, and Southwestern West Virginia.

The following named conferences appointed delegates to the initial convention: Ontario, New York Eastern, New York Western, New York Central, Tioga River, New Jersey, Rays Hill and Southern Pennsylvania, and West Virginia.

The delegates attending were: Rev. Martyn Summerbell, Lakemont, N. Y.; Rev. W. H. Hainer, Irvington, N. J.; Rev. F. G. Coffin, Albany, Mo.; Rev. John Bowditch Gove, Sprakers, N. Y.; Rev. L. F. Johnson, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Rev. J. A. Foss, Sprakers, N. Y.; Mr. F. R. Beach, Irvington, N. J.; Rev. Arthur Humphreys, Plainville, N. Y.; Mr. J. B. Pease, Gasport, N. Y.; Rev. John MacCalman, Lakemont, N. Y.; Mr. James S. Frost, West Henrietta, N. Y., and Rev. Henry W. McCrone, St. Johnsville, N. Y.

Visiting brethren were: Rev. W. H. Denison, Dayton, Ohio, and Rev. A. G. Caris, Defiance, Ohio.

A temporary organization was affected by electing Rev. Henry W. McCrone, St. Johnsville, N. Y., President of the New York Eastern Christian Conference, Chairman. The Convention was then permanently organized, and, by vote, named, the Metropolitan District Christian Convention. The times of meeting were fixed to meet every two years, previous to, and succeeding, the sessions of The American Christian Convention.

The Central Christian Convention had its origin in an action taken by The American Christian Convention, at Conneaut, Ohio, in 1919, when the commission on organization made the following report:

"We recommend the continuance of the District Conventions, already established and that The American Christian Convention encourage the organization of two more such Conventions, the same to be named as their constituency may decide. One of these to include Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan, and Kentucky, and the other to include the province of Ontario, and the States of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and West Virginia. These District Conventions shall be for the purposes of inspiration and conference. The organization of these District Conventions shall in no wise disturb the method of official approach of The American Christian Convention and its departments to the local conference and the local church, or make such District Conventions an intermediary of official communication."

At the annual meeting of the Ohio State Christian Association at Buckland, Ohio, in November of 1920, a resolution was adopted authorizing the Association to take the initial steps in organizing the proposed regional conference. At a meeting of the executive board of the Association, held in Dayton, Ohio, December 14, 1920, a motion prevailed instructing the President of the Association to call a meeting of the executive officers of the States concerned, and some of the leaders of our church, for the purpose of taking the initial steps toward organizing said convention, and making arrangements for the first meeting. The President of the Association, thereupon, issued a call to the said executives of the different state organizations, interested, and other leaders of the church for a meeting to be held at the Y. M. C. A. building at Indianapolis, on February 8, 1921. At this meeting the following representatives were present:

Rev. F. G. Coffin, President of The American Christian Convention.

Rev. O. S. Thomas, Secretary for Home Missions, American Christian Convention.

Rev. W. H. Denison, Superintendent of the Forward Movement of the Christian Church.

Rev. F. H. Peters, Defiance College pastor.

Rev. A. G. Caris, President Defiance College.

Rev. W. J. Young, President Miami Ohio Christian Conference, and Secretary Ohio State Christian Association.

Rev. E. A. Watkins, Pastor Lima Christian Church.

Rev. C. F. Baldwin, President Indiana State Christian Conference.

Rev. W. H. Zenor, Secretary for the Department of Sunday-schools of the Indiana State Conference.

Hon. O. W. Whitelock, President Christian Publishing Association.

Rev. Levi J. Carter, Later Secretary of the Central Christian Convention.

Rev. Lloyd Reich, Secretary Illinois State Christian Conference.

The meeting was called to order, and Rev. F. G. Coffin was chosen temporary Chairman, and Rev. W. J. Young, temporary Secretary. The Chairman called for a free and thorough discussion of the advisability of forming such a convention. After going over the matter carefully and giving it the most careful consideration, the motion prevailed that it be the sense of the body that we organize the Central Christian Convention as suggested by The American Christian Convention. A motion prevailed that the membership of such convention should be composed of all officers of organizations, within the prescribed territory, including all ministers and pastors and that lay delegates be elected by the conferences, on the basis of one for each 100 church members, or fraction thereof. The following officers were elected:

Rev. E. A. Watkins, Lima, Ohio, President.

Rev. Levi J. Carter, Illinois, Secretary.

Rev. C. F. Baldwin, Indiana, Treasurer.

An Executive and Program Committee was appointed and instructed to arrange a program and plan a temporary organization for the Convention. It was decided that the first meeting of the Convention should be held early in November. The Executive Committee held a meeting at Winona Lake, on May 31st, at which time a carefully balanced program was worked out. It was decided that the first meeting of the Convention should be held on November 1-3, but on account of a conflict was later changed to November 8-10. After a great deal of correspondence and preliminary work the convention assembled at Huntington, Ind., on the date named.

The Department Secretaries have done a great work for the Church. Our entire force has heartily co-operated with every department and officer of the Convention. A splendid lot of literature has been prepared and distributed. Hundreds of our churches have organized on the group plan. The morale of our people is being quickened in all sections. Many of our finest young people are enlisting as life-work recruits and preparing themselves for challenging Christian tasks. Hundreds are enrolling as tithers and are signing prayer covenants. The year has largely been given to educational and constructive work carrying the Forward Movement plans and information right down to the local churches. We have attended twenty-eight annual conference sessions, and a larger number of institutes, conventions, etc.

FUTURE PLANS

- Complete the organization of the churches and conferences according to the Forward Movement plans, making it possible for all departments of the church to use for their work the channels thus provided to reach every family.
- Keep on with schools of instruction until the denomination is fully covered with the constructive message.
- See that the full program is put on in the churches.
- Complete the special million dollar canvass before the Quadrennial Convention.
- Co-operate in every way with the Convention departments to enlarge their work and help reach their goals.

REV. RHOLLO H. GOTT
 Kokomo, Indiana

Rev. Mr. Gott, ordained minister Christian Church, Western Indiana Conference, August, 1886, at Antioch Church near Frankfort, Ind., and continuous member until present time.

Writer of "Field Notes" and occasional articles of theological import for Herald of Gospel Liberty.

The work on which he gave fifteen years of study, although reducing his research to small compass is known as: Illumination of Fundamentals as Related to Christian Church.

After the above was in type, ready to be locked up, word reached us of the death of Rev. Mr. Gott, which occurred at Brazil, Indiana, Saturday, December 24th.

All presidents of the Conference Woman's Boards are vice-presidents of the State Woman's Board.

This Association is composed of the seven conferences in Ohio and Erie Conference in Pennsylvania. The annual meeting is usually held early in November of each year, but on account of the meeting of the Central Christian Convention at Huntington, Indiana, the annual meeting was omitted in 1921, the Executive Board transacting all necessary business.

It has assumed $20,000 of the endowment of Defiance College and thus far has paid the interest promptly each year, together with a portion of the principal.

The total assets of the Association are its permanent funds, amounting at present to about $8,000.00.

It aids in the support of field secretaries in several of the conferences, and has liquidated a considerable portion of the Columbus church debt recently.

PEOPLES CHRISTIAN CHURCH, MILFORD, N. J.

This church has, for the past several years, co-operated with The American Christian Convention, and won for itself a degree of loyalty and liberality. During this time Rev. B. F. Hoagland was pastor. The clerk is Spencer B. Garrett, Milford, N. J. We are informed that Rev. Mr. Hoagland is not, at the present time, pastor, and we have no report from the church. The last report received included a Sunday-school with graded classes, and Home Department, using exclusively The Christian Publishing Association literature. The superintendent was Charles G. Melick, Milford, N. J. We have no report this year.

We are glad to list the College Christian Church, at Albany, Missouri. This church, at present, has no conference membership, but in all probability will connect up with the North Missouri Conference.

COLLEGE CHRISTIAN CHURCH—Rev. F. G. Coffin, D. D., pastor; Rev. F. G. Coffin was pastor last year; Taylor S. Watt, clerk, Albany, Mo. Membership, 47. Received last year, 13. Full time preaching. Contributions to Relief Fund

The contributions to the several relief funds cannot be reported, except in a general way. To name the several sources from which the funds have come would occupy entirely too much space. The best we can do is to group the amounts so as to preserve, in a general way, a record of the funds.

From October 1, 1919, to October 1, 1921, we have credited in all 251 personal gifts, amounting to $2,482.23.

We have credited from conference territories as follows:

Amounts Received From All Sources, and for All Purposes, Between September 30, 1920, and September 30, 1921

In the following table the amounts given are as shown by the books of the Convention in all the offices where money is handled. The Convention office handled all the funds, except the following: Home and Foreign Missions, Forward Movement, and the Forward Movement funds to the Departments of Missions, Sunday-schools, Christian Endeavor, and Publishing. The Convention handled $2,481.27 of the Foreign Mission fund and $2,102.86 of the Home Mission fund.

The Educational Department received $4,000.00 more than appears on the report. It came in two days after the accounts were closed, and audited, for the year.

There is a possibility of a few duplications in the amounts credited to the Convention, as quite an amount was handed from the various departments.

Dedications and Rededications

"Thus Solomon finished the house of Jehovah, and the king's house: and all that came into Solomon's heart to make in the house of Jehovah, and in his own house, he prosperously effected. And Jehovah appeared to Solomon by night, and said unto him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place to myself for a house of sacrifice."

Christian Temple, Winona Lake, Indiana. See page 64.

Coletown, Eastern Indiana Conference. Dedicated September 11, 1921. Rev. D. R. Lusk, pastor. Rev. J. F. Burnett in charge.

Elm Grove—Western Indiana Conference. Rededicated August 21, 1921. Rev. Clarence Defur, pastor. The pastor was in charge, assisted by Rev. W. P. Kibbey.

Franklin—Miami Ohio Conference. This building has not been rededicated, but has been refitted and refurnished. The upper room has been dismantled, preparatory to fitting it up for social purposes; the lower rooms papered and painted, seated with pews and electric lights installed. The pipe organ, one of the best in the town, has been brought down, and rebuilt in the lower room. Some additional Sunday-school rooms are under consideration, which, if opened, will make the Franklin Christian Church building quite sufficient for all uses.

ORDINATIONS

"Ye are my friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you.

"Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; but I have called you friends; for all things that I have heard of my Father I have made known unto you.

"Ye have not chosen me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain: that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in my name, he may give it you.

"These things I command you, that ye love one another.

"If the world hate you, ye know that it hated me before it hated you."—Jesus.

Christian Temple, Winona Lake, Indiana

Dedicated Sunday, September 4. Both the morning and afternoon services were devoted to the dedication of the Temple. At the forenoon service the choir of the First Christian Church Huntington, Indiana, furnished the music. The choir entered the Temple in processional, and being capped and gowned, made a fine appearance. At this service Rev. Frank G. Coffin, D. D., president of The American Christian Convention and also of Palmer College, preached the dedicational sermon. Subject: Perpetuating the House of God. At the afternoon service the music was in charge of the Ladies' Choir of the Warren Christian Church. Rev. Doctor Breckenridge, Secretary of the Winona Assembly, brought the greetings of the Assembly to the Conference and through it to the whole denomination. The scripture lesson was read by Rev. C. E. Strawbridge, the dedicational formula by Rev. R. W. Page, and the dedicational prayer was by Rev. Wilson D. Samuel, D. D., ex-president of The American Christian Convention. The offering in charge of Rev. J. F. Burnett, Secretary of The American Christian Convention, aggregated six thousand one hundred dollars. The entire cost of the building was a little above seventeen thousand dollars. The final benediction was pronounced by Rev. Omer S. Thomas, D. D., Secretary for the Department of Home Missions of The American Christian Convention.

The Herald of Gospel Liberty spoke editorially of the Temple before its dedication as follows: The Eel River Christian Conference, of which Judge O. W. Whitelock is the president, and Mr. J. F. Barnes the secretary, has done a very wise thing in selecting Winona Lake, Indiana, as its regular meeting place and erecting for itself this beautiful temple as its permanent home. The Eel River distinguishes itself by being the first conference in the Christian Church to undertake anything of the kind. And this will not only make a fine home for itself, but it will also provide a splendid gathering place for conventions and other gatherings of the entire denomination. The building committee was: Rev. R. W. Page, Chairman, Rev. Samuel Frantz, Secretary, O. W. Whitelock, Rev. Columbus C. Tarr, and D. C. Urschel. And the finance committee: Rev. J. E. Etter, Chairman, Rev. R. W. Page, Rev. J. B. Fisher, Thomas M. Ott, and C. B. McConnell.

The Chautauqua is for ministers, Sunday-school, Christian Endeavor, and other Christian workers, for all who are interested in the Kingdom of God, and who desire to become better Christian workmen. Special attention will be given to life-work recruits and to our Young People's work.

Strong programs are presented each year by specialists. The attendance increases yearly. It combines study and recreation. Churches should have representatives there and it is time to plan now to take your vacation at Ocean View.

Scene at Ocean View, Virginia

The First Christian Church, Burlington, North Carolina

This is the temple in which The American Christian Convention will hold its next session, October 17-25, 1922. Rev. G. O. Lankford, D. D., is the pastor. The building is a new one. It cost approximately $75,000. It is partly of two stories and partly of three, and has thirty different rooms finished, and will have six more when the basement is completed. It is equipped with a double unit steam heating plant, and has one of the best organs in the State. Its entire seating capacity is about 800.

The American Christian Convention will meet in this building October 17-25, 1922.

Pastor Christian Church, Burlington, N. C.

JOHN MacCALMAN

Rev. John MacCalman

John MacCalman was born in Scotland, Morvern, in Argyllshire, on April 29, 1855. From childhood he was taught to fear God, and do right. In his boyhood he attended the school of his native place; but later he went to Glasgow, where he apprenticed to the trade of a carpenter for five years, in which he learned the art of building. But while he worked diligently by day, he was faithful in attendance at the night schools; and so while supporting himself by daily labor, gained a solid Scotch schooling as a foundation for his life work.

He came to America in the summer of 1881, and was soon working at his trade. He united with the St. Paul Evangelical Church and entered heartily into the social and religious life of the church and had a class of boys in the Sunday-school. While connected with this church, he made the acquaintance of Prof. Alva H. Morrill, who was then professor of New Testament Greek in our theological school at Stanfordville. Growing out of this acquaintance, and by the recommendation of the late Francis A. Palmer, Mr. MacCalman decided to study theology, was registered in Stanfordville, and was received into the New York Eastern Conference as a licentiate member. He was ordained to the full work of the ministry at Schultsville, N. Y., on June 4, 1886, Rev. Martyn Summerbell preaching the ordination sermon. Rev. MacCalman was pastor of the Schultsville Church at the time. He was pastor, for periods of greater or less time, of the following named churches: Clove, N. Y.; Schultsville, N. Y.; Middle Street, New Bedford, Mass.; Covington, Ohio; and Lakemont, N. Y. He was a member of the faculty of Starkey Seminary and Palmer Institute during the years that he was pastor of the Lakemont Christian Church, which position he held at the time of his death.

He held various memberships on Convention Boards and Commissions, and his wise counsel and kindly spirit added greatly to the successful work they did. He was appointed a member of the Commission on Evangelism of the Federal Council. He was Secretary of the Directors of the Aged Christian Ministers' Home, a Trustee of Starkey Seminary, and a member of the Board of Directors of the Francis Asbury Palmer Fund. Dr. Martyn Summerbell says: "And in all these various capacities he served in all modesty and yet with abundant efficiency. A truer man and a more faithful friend never walked this earthly footstool. The loss, by his demise, to the Seminary, the Lakemont Church, the community, and the church at large is irreparable." Rev. MacCalman passed away January 27, 1921.

MILO TRUE MORRILL, A. M., D. D.

Milo True Morrill

Milo True Morrill was born in North Washington, Iowa, May 13, 1865, and died in Defiance, Ohio, June 22, 1921. He was married to Alice Covington Vaughan, of Woodstock, Vt., June 8, 1898, and became the father of three children.

He was received to membership, and licensed, by the Merrimack Christian Conference and was ordained a minister in the Christian Church at Woodstock, Vt., October 31, 1894. The following order of service was observed: Sermon by Rev. A. H. Morrill, D. D.; Ordaining prayer, Rev. William S. Morrill; Charge to church, Rev. G. W. Morrow, who also extended the hand of fellowship; Charge to candidate, Rev. E. W. West. It is interesting to note that Rev. William S. Morrill was the father of Alva H., and uncle to Milo True Morrill. His first, and only pastorate was Woodstock, Vt., where he remained ten years. He was graduated from Carlton College, Minn., in 1889, and spent the following year at Harvard College, Mass. He was a student in Dartmouth College, N. H., for the years 1904 and 1905, from which institution he took his Master's Degree. During these years he was associate pastor of the Church of Christ, at Dartmouth—familiarily spoken of as "The College Church." He taught one year, 1893-1894, in Starkey Seminary, N. Y., during the Principalship of his cousin, Rev. Alva H. Morrill, and took the Professorship of Biblical Literature and History in Defiance College, Ohio, in January, 1919. He received the honorary degree, Doctor Divinitas, from Defiance College in 1910. He was elected Secretary for the Department of Foreign Missions of the Christian Church at the session of The American Christian Convention, held at Huntington, Indiana, October, 1906. During his terms of office as Secretary for the Department, he visited Japan and Porto Rico, to inspect the mission fields, and to more thoroughly acquaint himself with their needs, that he might more adequately provide for them.

He was brought up in the trade of the printer, which gave him added qualifications for his work on The Christian Missionary. During the years he served as Secretary, he wrote "History of the Christian Denomination in America." This was done by the request of The American Christian Convention, and the value and popularity of the work testify to the wisdom of the request. He was a prolific writer, always clear in statement, and compelling in argument. He prepared and published numerous tracts on subjects directly connected with his work. His contributions to The Herald of Gospel Liberty were frequent, and always worthy the writer and the reader, but, in all probability, his "At Prayer Time" holds the merit of his masterpieces, for in them he exhibited the highest type of constructive Christian statesmanship.

Mrs. J. Pressley Barrett

EMILY SUSAN EVERETT, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elisha Everett, Nansemond County, Virginia, was born October 8, 1857, and passed to her reward October 25, 1921.

MRS. J. PRESSLEY BARRETT

Her childhood and early school days were spent in the home of her parents. Later she entered Salem Female Academy, Salem, Winston, N. C.

In 1882, she began her public work for the Sunday-school by preparing the lessons for the primary department of The Sunday School Worker at Raleigh, N. C. On November 7, 1882, she was married to Rev. J. Pressley Barrett, then editor of The Christian Sun. At the request of the publisher she took charge of the Children's Corner, which under the nom de plume of "Aunt Minnie," she filled with real success for several years. She soon became her husband's assistant in editing and publishing The Christian Sun, taking his place whenever his duties called him to the field. When her husband became editor of The Herald of Gospel Liberty in 1907, she became not officially, but truly his assistant.

She was a systematic worker. If she was called to do work for which she did not feel herself qualified, she would qualify herself. She was a Sunday-school teacher in the Memorial Christian Temple, Norfolk, Virginia, and at Covington, Ohio; but when she moved to Dayton much was being said of teacher training. She had been given a class in the Sunday-school of the First Church of that city; but forthwith she took, and graduated in, the teacher-training course. When she removed from Dayton, Ohio, to Columbus, Georgia, she was given a class in the Rose Hill Christian Sunday-school which she taught as long as her health would permit. When she moved to Holland, Virginia, she was not really able to take a class; but she served as a supply teacher. Her best work in teaching at Holland, Virginia, was as instructor of the missionary class.

For more than fifteen years she was in declining health, but she was almost constantly cheerful and happy. During the early part of 1921, it was plainly evident that she could not hold on much longer. She recognized the fact, but maintained her fine courage and sweet cheerfulness to the last. Last July she said to her husband that she "wished to spend her last days with Ethel," her daughter; and quickly arrangements were made to take her to the daughter's home, which was then at Darlington, South Carolina. About the first of October her daughter moved to Wilson, North Carolina. She was permitted to be in this new and beautiful home but twenty-five days, when suddenly the death angel came and in a moment she was gone.

On October 27, they laid her body in the beautiful Cedar Hill cemetery at Suffolk, Virginia, where her father and mother, her brothers and sisters sleep. The funeral was from the Christian Church in Suffolk, and was conducted by Rev. I. W. Johnson, pastor of her childhood's home church, Berea, Nansemond County. The floral offerings sent from friends and loved ones in four States were both lavish and beautiful, worthily expressing the estimate they placed upon her life of love and service. Revs. I. W. Johnson, D. D., H. H. Butler, and W. M. Jay, paid beautiful word tributes to her memory. Rev. Jas. H. Lightbourne read the Scriptures. On account of illness Dr. W. W. Staley, the pastor of the Suffolk Church, could not be present.

ALVA M. KERR.

Marion Lawrance's father located in Yellow Springs, Ohio, when Marion was not more than four years old. Here he remained until he was twenty years of age, during which time he attended the Christian Church and Sunday-school. During a series of meetings, conducted by Elder N. Summerbell, he and his brother went to the altar, and afterward he united with the Christian Church. He was baptized in "the branch" not far from the college building, and, by invitation of Rev. Dr. Weston, took charge of the young people's choir. While yet in early manhood he decided to enter the Christian ministry, but his health failing, he was compelled to give up his studies, and consequently his desire for the pulpit. His father was at one time agent of The Christian Publishing Association. Upon leaving Yellow Springs, and locating in Toledo, Marion united with the Congregational Church, and is now known as one of the greatest Sunday-school workers of the world.

Increase and Efficiency

For years we have quoted our Sunday-schools as comprising "about 100,000 members." Last year, actual count showed that we lacked 20,000 of that number. The Sunday-school Board is putting on a campaign, under the above heading to secure that other Ten Thousand before October, 1922. Remember that this is our Quadrennial Year, and write to Mr. Hermon Eldredge, Y. M. C. A., Erie, Pa., or Mrs. F. E. Bullock, C. P. A. Building, Dayton, Ohio, for information that will help you do your part toward reaching our goal, 100,000 members in our Sunday-schools by the time of our Quadrennium Convention, October, 1922.

It will not answer now to have Queen Anne homes for the family; big red barns for the horses; modern pens for the pigs; the latest pattern of hen-houses for biddy and her brood; a dollar an hour for farm labor; five hundred dollars a year for pastoral service; a thousand dollars each for automobiles; a one-story house, poorly furnished, in which to worship God.

Christian Church, Tuscola, Illinois

This building takes the place of the one destroyed by fire on the night of January 26, 1921. It was erected under the pastoral care of Rev. I. M. Hoel, and was dedicated on Sunday, June 5, 1921, Rev. J. F. Burnett, officiating. The formal program of dedication was as follows. Sermon and offering, by Rev. J. F. Burnett. Presentation of the keys, Rev. John Baughman. Reading the dedicatorial formula, Rev. J. F. Burnett. Dedicatory prayer, Rev. I. M. Hoel.

Our local churches are providing themselves with large and well-furnished houses of worship. Old things are passing away, behold, they are becoming new, in the style of church architecture, as well as in spiritual experiences. The new demands upon the church call for added conveniences in the building. The one-room house in which the older generation worshiped must be displaced by the modern structure, for it alone is adequate as a building for the needs of the hour. We now have quite a number of church buildings, ranging from seven to thirty rooms, and all of them used for the purpose for which they were built.

The Christians are building for the future, amply, solidly, but in the years to come, when new demands shall have arisen, these splendid buildings will give place to larger and more commodious ones. This is the law of progress. The log cabin of the pioneer has been displaced by the modern home; the old straw pile of the first settler has given way to the big red barn; the scythe and the sickle have rusted away, and the farmer drives afield with horses of steel and machinery of power; the old stage-coach and canal boat are things of the past, for we now travel by steam, and talk by electricity. The church that would serve the age in which it lives must look well to the style of its architecture.

Christian Church, Coletown, Ohio

Dedicated Sunday, September 11, 1921. Rev. Dwight R. Lusk, pastor. Rev. J. F. Burnett, officiating. The following order of service was observed: Sermon in the forenoon, and the offering, by Rev. J. F. Burnett; sermon in the afternoon by Rev. W. Max Shaffer, President of the Eastern Indiana Conference, and its Field Secretary; reading the dedicatorial formula, Rev. D. R. Lusk; dedicatory prayer, Rev. R. P. Arrick.

Last year every Superintendent in the Sunday-schools of our denomination received a letter with this slogan printed upon its face—"Give More Thought to Children." It was our first denominational appeal for an observance of Children's Week. Several years ago, Mrs. Maud J. Baldwin, the International Superintendent of the Children's Division work conceived the idea of using the "Baby Week" promoted by the Government as an opportunity for enlisting parents, educators, and community interests in a campaign for the religious nurture and education of our children. Numbers of our churches have participated in county programs heretofore, and last year many schools wrote to the Sunday-school Board for supplies to aid in the observance of this Children's Week. It is hoped that every Sunday-school in the Christian Church will observe Children's Week, April 30—May 7, 1922. Write to Mrs. F. E. Bullock, Superintendent Children's Division, Room 27, C. P. A. Building, Dayton, Ohio, for information and supplies.

Literature is being prepared which will assist in carrying out the threefold objective of Children's Week—more thought for childhood in the Home, the Church and the Community. The slogan for this year will be Hoover's statement, "The Race Marches Forward on the Feet of Little Children." Children's Week will be a splendid time to discuss starting a "Vacation Bible School" during the summer months to supplement the teaching of the Sunday-school. More training for our youth is a vital necessity. We shall never have boys and girls able to give a reason for the faith that is in them, with but one hour a week of religious training.

The plans of the Home Mission Department for the field work are being enhanced very much by the work of Rev. McD. Howsare as General Field Secretary. For the months of September, October, and November he devoted his time to the Southern Ohio Conference, where he put on a simultaneous campaign for evangelism which resulted in many additions to the churches of that conference. That campaign was followed immediately by a series of Institutes for Laymen to discuss efficient methods of church work and line up the revived churches for definite service in their communities.

The Home Mission Department has issued a tentative program for these institutes, and with it a list of forty questions for thought and discussion. Brother Howsare will go to aid other field men in putting on these institutes in the churches. He is now working with a group of the leaders on a model constitution which will be offered to the churches.

Another plan for the work of the field secretary is the development of lay leaders and training them for pastoral service during the time of the dearth of pastors.

Rev. McD. Howsare

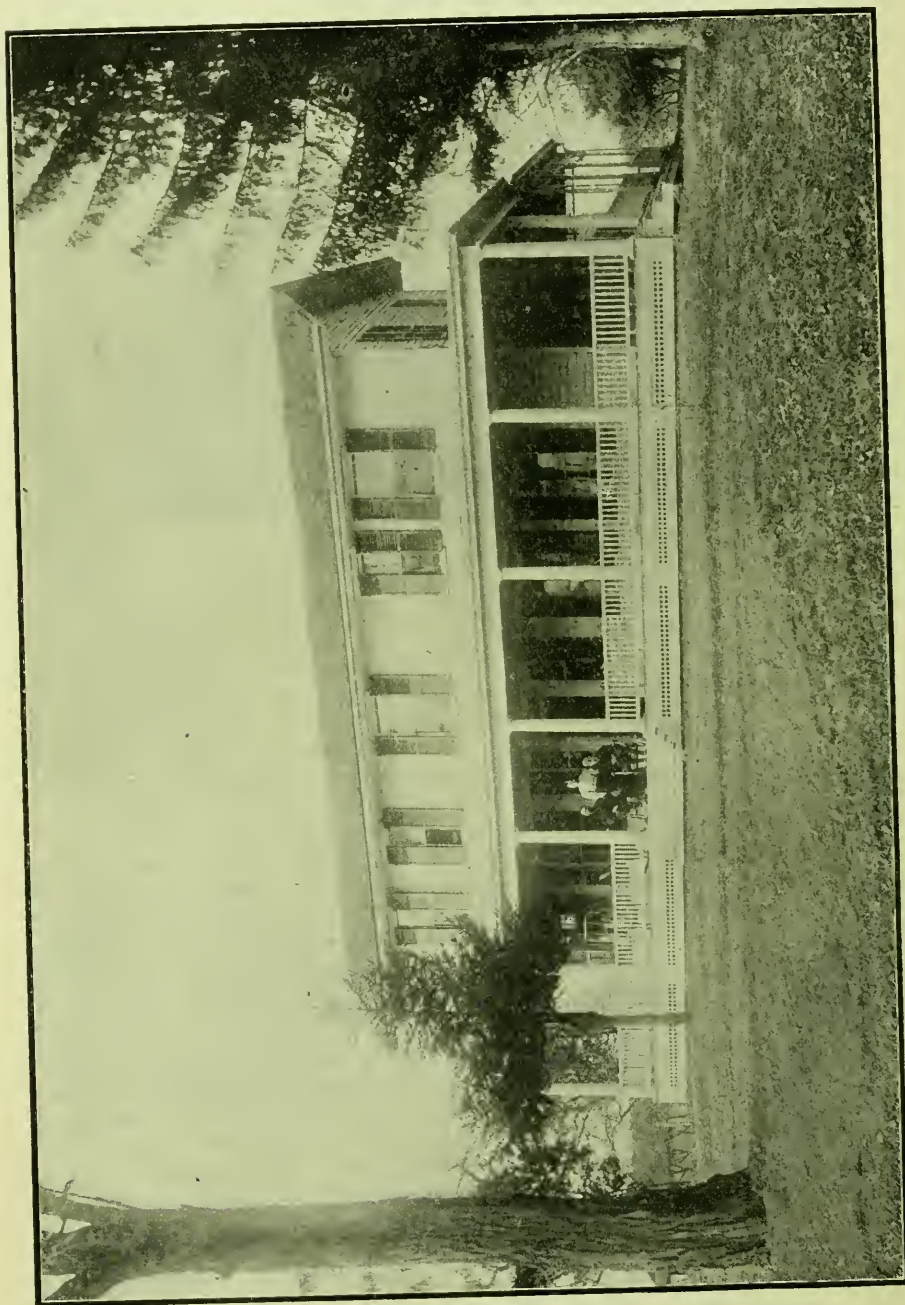

CHRISTIAN PARSONAGE, DANVILLE, ILLINOIS

This building was dedicated on Sunday, September 18, Rev. Omer S. Thomas, D. D., Secretary for the Department of Home Missions, in charge. Rev. M. Eugene Willard, pastor. The dedicatory service occurred from the front veranda of the parsonage. Rev. Bessie H. Willard, wife of the pastor, offered the dedicatory prayer. Mr. Atherton, chairman of the building committee, presented the keys which were received by the pastor who expressed the hope that "their doors might always be open to those who needed their ministry, and that the true spirit of the Master might always be issuing from them."

Rev. Alva M. Kerr, editor of The Herald of Gospel Liberty, spoke editorially of the event as follows:

One of the very best things which the Home Mission Department is doing at the present time is to co-operate with churches to help them secure a home for their pastor. Through the Parsonage Loan Fund, a number of churches are finding it possible to have a church residence, and some to have a resident pastor for the first time in their existence. The church at Danville, Illinois, is one of the latest to avail themselves of this help, and the pretty little home above is the good result of their effort. To own a parsonage and have a resident pastor lifts a church out of one class into a much higher and better one—and ought to be the first aim of every congregation.

THE AGED CHRISTIAN MINISTERS' HOME

THE AGED CHRISTIAN MINISTERS' HOMEBy M. Summerbell

The Aged Christian Ministers' Home, at Lakemont, New York, has been established by the denomination to care for its ministers and their wives when unable to carry on their work. Its situation is one of the most beautiful in the land, and is close to one of our most intelligent and progressive churches. Unfortunately the building which is used for the Home is not large enough to accommodate all who apply, nor is the income sufficient to meet present needs. Extensive alterations and extensions should be made soon, and will be made as soon as the means is provided. Many of our people have been richly blessed in basket and store, and it would be well if they were to consider the claim upon us of these retired servants of the Lord. In the making of wills there should be remembrance of the Home, and contributions from the churches would be in order to a generous extent.

The members of the Home at present are Rev. and Mrs. Edward French, who were well known in New Jersey, New York, and Pennsylvania; Mrs. Amy Davis, whose husband was one of our most efficient preachers; Mrs. Hallam, widow of Rev. E. C. Hallam, who was for forty years a leading missionary in India, and Rev. and Mrs. Robert G. Fenton, from the New York Eastern Conference. The Matron of the Home is Mrs. Edward Moon, whose kindly care of our old people is solicitous and tender. The Directors of the Home are Rev. J. W. Wilson, of Jamestown, N. Y., who is also President of the Board; Rev. John B. Gove, of Sprakers, Secretary; Mr. Jas. S. Frost, of West Henrietta, Treasurer; Dr. M. Summerbell, Lakemont; Dr. F. S. Child, Fairfield, Conn.; Mr. John B. Pease, of Gasport, and Dr. G. A. Conibear, of Lakemont.

Seated, Deacon David Day. First row, standing, Deacon R. M. Blackburn, and Deacon A. B. McBride, chairman of the Building Committee. Next three, Prof. Robert Day, Secretary of the Building Committee, "Tommy" Thompson, Treasurer, and Charles Chandler, Trustee. Back row, Revs. W. V. Miller and J. F. Burnett. The above picture was taken on Sunday afternoon, April 24, when the Mt. Joy Christian Church was dedicated.

The Darlington, Indiana, Christian Church
Western Indiana Conference

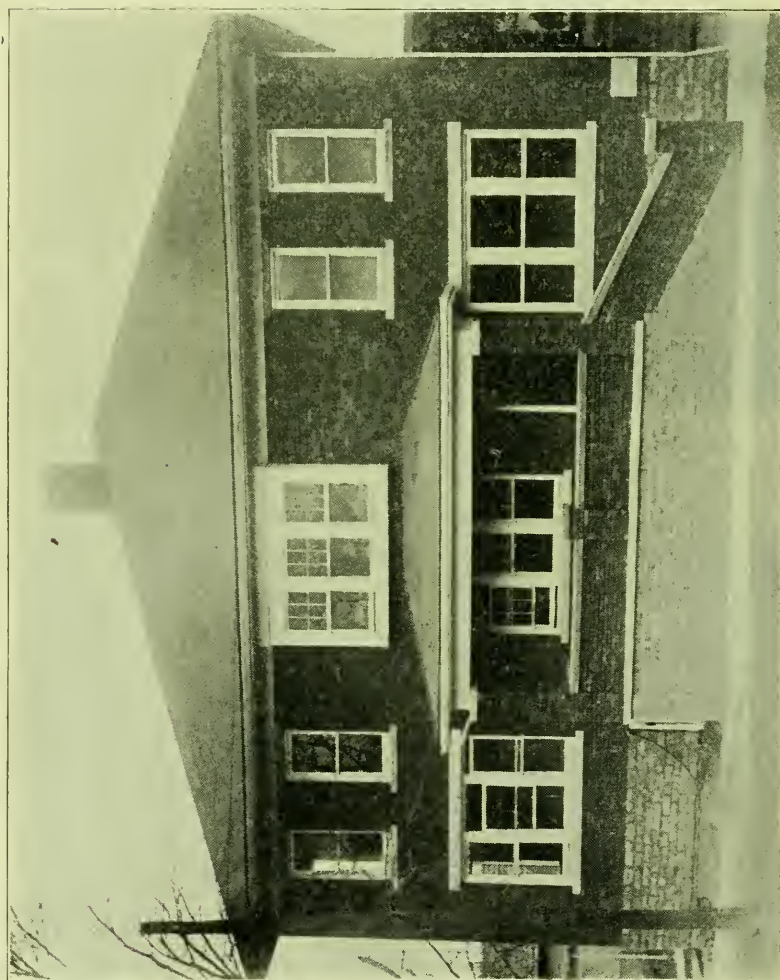

The Parish House is a building forty-eight by sixty feet. It is two full stories above ground. It is a combination building. Seven rooms, and bath, along the front,

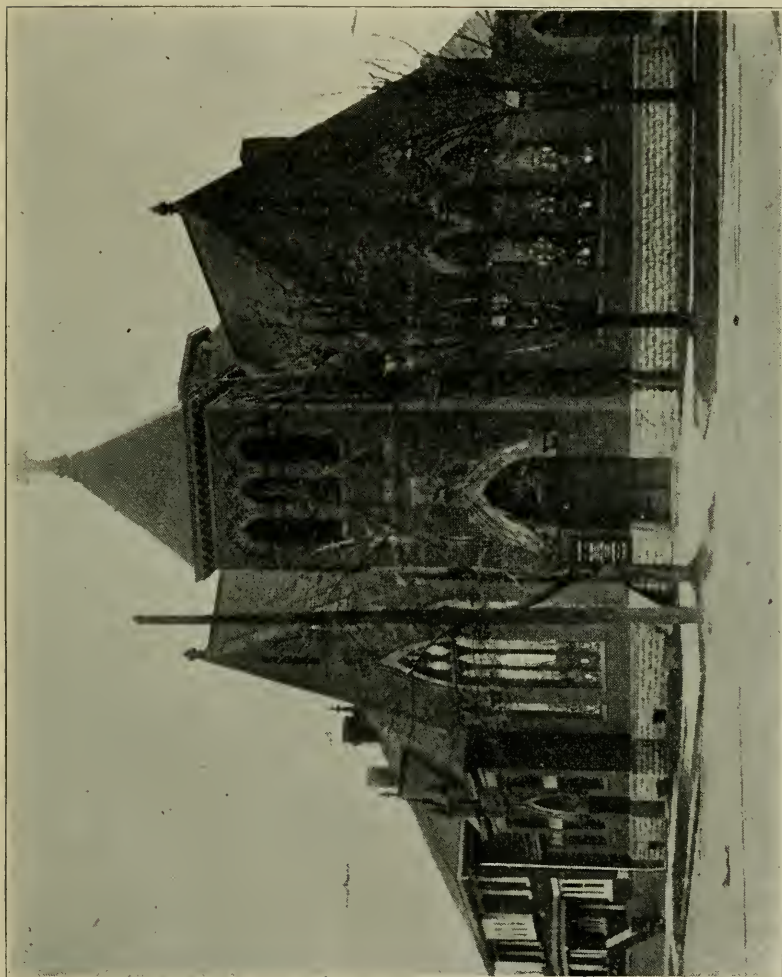

REV. HARRY G. ROWE

upstairs and down, comprise the pastor's living rooms. The rear of the building is for church use. It is built to accommodate a modernly organized Sunday-school, not only furnishing separate classrooms, but is built so that each department is to itself. The Primary Department, and Intermediate Departments are on the first floor. The Junior Department, with eight rooms, is on the second floor. A room for all mid-week services on the first floor, carpeted, and easily heated, will be appreciated by the choir, orchestra, and prayer meeting folks. There is a passageway from the main floor to the church auditorium, and from one basement to the other.

In the Parish House there is a dining room, which will accommodate one hundred and twenty-five people at one sitting. Also a large, modernly equipped kitchen, and the heating plant for this building. The church building will only be used for occasions of Sunday worship, and Sunday-school, etc. All mid-week meetings of a smaller nature will be held in the Parish House. The building is finished and equipped to the last detail. The remodeling of the church and building of the Parish House cost about twenty thousand dollars, counting what labor was donated by the membership of the church.

Parish House, Christian Church, Warren, Indiana
Dedicated Sunday, November 27, by Rev. F. G. Coffin, President of The American Christian Convention

Christian Church, Warren, Indiana
Rev. H. G. Rowe, pastor

This building has been refurnished and decorated. It was redecorated in oil Tiffany finish. All woodwork refinished. Floors sanded and finished, new carpets laid, new floor elevations made, basement fitted up in classrooms, new lighting fixtures installed. It has a large and beautiful auditorium, with balcony, six classrooms, and two lavatories. Everything clean, new, modern, comfortable.

The Peoples Christian Church was organized a little over twelve years ago by Dr. A. W. Lightbourne, of sainted memory. For several months the congregation met for worship each Sunday in The Nixon Opera House, but soon set their hands to the task of building this large and commodious church edifice which was dedicated in June of 1910.

ROY C. HELFENSTEIN

The building is a long structure of the Gothic type of architecture, having the largest auditorium in the city, with an actual seating capacity of more than seven hundred, a church parlor, pastor's office, and gallery. The basement is well lighted and equipped for socials, recreational privileges, and Sunday-school work. Dr. Roy C. Helfenstein became pastor of Peoples Church October 1, 1920.

During the past year one hundred and two new members have been received into the church, seventy of whom united by confession of faith. Within the last few months a beautiful new Kimball Pipe Organ has been installed, and several large memorial windows placed. This church launched the "Fast Covenant Plan" of raising money for the starving children of Armenia and China last year—a plan which was later adopted by hundreds of churches of different denominations throughout the nation.

The church uses the Weekly Duplex Envelopes and budget system of finance, and raises its budget by the Every Member Volunteer Plan. The church had a balance of more than five hundred dollars at the close of the conference year. The budget for 1922 is $8,815.00 (eight thousand, eight hundred and fifteen dollars).

Peoples Christian Church, Dover, Delaware
R. C. Helfenstein, Minister
Residence, 109 S. Bradford Street, Telephone 230

This church stands for the gospel of Jesus Christ as God's only power to save our lives, our homes, our community, our nation, and the world,—a gospel which is both individualistic and social.

We believe that personal interpretation of the scriptures is the privilege and duty of every Christian; that the medieval creeds and worn-out dogmas of the past have no part in present day Christianity, but that each individual should deduce his own creed from the Bible and from the experiences of life.

Our requirement for church membership is the acceptance of Christ as Savior and the desire to follow and serve him.

CONFERENCE DEPARTMENT

In the Conference Department, where the church or the Sunday-school or Christian Endeavor Society is not reported by the Conference Secretary, we have taken it as evidence that there were none to report, except in such cases where we were fully assured that only temporarily inactivity existed. In such cases we have reprinted the report for 1921 and indicated such reprint by the figures (1921). When Sunday-schools and Christian Endeavor Societies were not reported as making offerings to these departments, it was taken for granted that no offering had been made. The four offerings—Convention, Home Missions, Foreign Missions, and Education—are reported from the Convention records, except those reported by Conference Secretaries.

NORTH FORK ILLINOIS

In reply to a letter of inquiry concerning the above named conference I have the following letter:

"Dear Brother Burnett—

"The North Fork Conference is no more. Disbanded February 19, 1921.

Signed H. D. Catte."

The North Fork, Illinois, Christian Conference was organized at the Pleasant Valley Christian Church, Willow Hill, Ill., August 11, 1909, and was soon afterward incorporated. Rev. P. Wade was its first president, and Rev. H. D. Catte its only secretary, serving from the time of its organization to its disbanding. The object of the organization as set forth in the articles of incorporation was to promote the teaching of the gospel and the building and organizing of churches.

At the time of its disbanding the following officers were in service as reported to The Christian Annual, 1921:

Officers—H. B. Frederick, Annapolis, Ill.—President.
Rev. J. D. Wiggins, Enfield, Ill.—Vice-President.
Rev. H. D. Catte, Willow Hill, Ill.—Secretary.
W. S. Warthen, Carmi, Ill.—Treasurer.

Department Secretaries—H. S. Early, Olney, Ill.—Ministry.
Lewis Spaugh, Martinsville, Ill.—Sunday-school.
Official Board—Evangelism.

Local Home Mission Board—Wm. King, Enfield, Ill.—President.
Cora Shanks, Annapolis, Ill.—Secretary.
Alka Elliott, Martinsville, Ill.—Treasurer.

Trustees—J. A. Keeran, Annapolis, Ill.; John Spivy, Martinsville, Ill.; John Krill, Harrisburg, Ill.

The membership at the time was:

Ministers —	Scott, John.
Catte, H. D.	Wade, P.
Early, H. S.	Wiggins, J. D.

Churches—Burnt Prairie and Willow Prairie.

The session of 1920 was held at Burnt Prairie.

Brodie, J. A.	Prichard, W. J.
Collins, J. L.	Rooks, Wesley

Another year, I hope to be able to give you what information you desire in some form. This is my first year to take hold of the work, and the reports were mostly verbal and not in full, so that we are not able to give any intelligent report.

All the churches have given financial help to Foreign Missions and to Education, but it is given through the Christian Convention, through the medium of Conference Taxes. A collection of fifty dollars was raised for Education during the Conference.

Comparative Table of Membership

We have taken very great care in preparing the following comparative report of membership. The losses and gains may not be actual, as the reports for both years were very incomplete. It will be understood that the reports under Nineteen Twenty-one, are for 1920, and the ones under Nineteen Twenty-two, for the year 1921. Five conferences, aggregating a membership of 991, were enrolled last year, but are not this. Add this number to 97,084, and we have 98,075.

The totals for 1921 are taken from The Christian Annual of that year. A few discrepancies have been discovered, but in the main the figures are correct.

Additions as Reported by Conferences

We have prepared the following table with unusual care, and feel reasonably sure of its accuracy. Some conferences did not report the addition to the membership of their churches. We have listed only such as did. Quite evidently other conferences than the ones mentioned received additions, which, had they been reported, would have increased the number reported by just so many.

MINISTERIAL DIRECTORY

This ministerial directory has been carefully compared with, and corrected by the roll of ministers furnished by the Conference Secretaries, except in the following particulars:

First—Of ministers whose age and bodily infirmities are known to be such as to prevent them from attending the conference sessions, but whose devotion to the church, and contributions to its work, remain as in the days of their strength.

Second—Of ministers known to have taken letters of dismissal from one conference to another after the session of the conference with which they afterward united. Some such were admitted by the Conference Executive Board and should have been reported by the Conference Secretary, and we felt that a minister should not suffer because of the failure of the conference officer.

Third—Those of the colored conferences. We did not have a report of the ministers of the colored conferences. The list is taken from printed proceedings mailed to us. The Christian Annual assumes no responsibility for the character or location of these persons except those who were reported as officers of the Afro-Christian Convention and of the conferences reporting.

ART GLASS WINDOWS

The Crowning Beauty of the Church

The whole aspect and interior of any religious edifice is largely contingent upon the character of its windows.

A SPLENDID TREATISE

has been prepared, giving not merely designs, but a comprehensive discussion of the Art from the remote past to the present day. It illustrates fragments of celebrated windows found in some of the old cathedrals of France and England, as well as modern Art Windows in which these designs, centuries old, have been used.

Those interested in beautiful churches should have a copy of "The Crowning Beauty of the Church." It is sent free. Merely mention this publication.

Mr. H. T. LePage,

My Dear Mr. LePage:

I take this occasion to write you about the style 16 cups, and indeed our whole Communion Set.
After nearly a year's use we are more than ever pleased with it.
I have visited several places where the flat cup and Aluminum trays are in use and have just wished that the kind we have could be substituted for them.
Ours are just a joy to us and I wish I could induce all to buy this kind. The glasses are much prettier and easier to handle and to drink from.

Yours cordially,

Rev. Bernard P. Smith,
Pastor Christian Church.
